

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

FOURTEENTH YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 7th, 1916.

PRICE TWO CENTS

1916
HATS

WE ARE NOW SHOWING
THE VERY LATEST

Spring :: Styles,

Hats, Ties & Gents Furnishings

ECKERT'S STORE

"On The Square"

1916
HATS

1916
HAT

1916
HATS

PHOTOPLAY

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG
IN

"CAMILLE"

This is based upon Alexandre Dumas' great French play "The Lady with the Camellias"

In this picture Miss Young puts forth what she herself said is to be the effort of her career. Her "Triby" was judged to be a beautiful piece of work. In Camille is the same fine dramatic art; but Camille is very vicious, very beautiful and a very celebrated member of the French underworld, with a string of wealthy lovers and a life the usual ways of a woman of her class.

ADMISSION 10c CHILDREN 5c Show Starts 6:30

WALTER'S THEATRE

To-night

DANIEL FROHMAN PRESENTS
THE CHARMING
HAZEL DAWN

In a picturization of the internationally famous drama

"THE MASQUERADERS"

An excellent story combining comedy and drama which shows Hazel Dawn at her best.

PARAMOUNT TRAVEL PICTURE

ORCHES' RA MUSIC

THREE SHOWS, 6:30, 8:00 and 9:30 P. M.

Admission 10c Children 5c

TOMORROW—MATINEE AND NIGHT—Dustin Farnum in the "Iron Strain" and a two reel Keystone comedy.

An Unusually fine Box of Writing Paper 25 cents.

Better buy now before the Advance in Price.

PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE

WE Now Announce STETSONS
For Spring 1916

VIGOROUS, well-modeled hats that appeal to masculine ideas of good dress. Shapes and shades personally selected for the men of this town—soft felts and derbies—in the rich textures so intimately associated with a Stetson. As you step into our store, a salesman is ready to help you make a choice. Our service is as prompt as our Stetsons are distinctive.

ROGERS, : MARTIN : COMPANY

LIME-SULFUR SOLUTION

It will absolutely test 33 degrees on the Baume hydrometer, and represents the ideal combination of lime and sulfur in solution. S-W Lime-Sulfur Solution is the best product manufactured for use in spraying for San Jose Scale, and is the ideal fungicide for the treatment of fungus troubles.

FOR SALE BY THE

Gettysburg Department Store

ANNUAL PRIZE ESSAY AWARDS

Valley Forge the Subject of Gettysburg Chapter's High School Theme this Year. Two Cash Awards.

The two prizes and the second honorable mention for this year's D. A. R. essay are captured by girls of the Gettysburg High School, only one boy being selected by the judges for recognition. The subject assigned for study was "Valley Forge" and the essays are declared to be of unusual merit. The awards are as follows:

First prize, $5.00 in gold, to Mary Hollinger, of Gettysburg, a member of the senior class. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Hollinger, of West Middle street.

Second prize, $2.50 in gold, to Lula Roth, of near Mummasburg, a member of the junior class. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Roth.

First honorable mention, an engraved certificate, to Henry Taylor, a member of the senior class, and a son of Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Taylor, of East High street.

Second honorable mention, an engraved card, to Edith Sheely, a member of the junior class, and a daughter of Mrs. W. C. Sheely, Springs avenue.

The judges were Dr. A. E. Wagner, Dr. H. R. Shipperd, and Charles L. Stable Esq. The prizes will be presented by Mrs. W. H. O'Neal, regent of Gettysburg Chapter, at the time of High School commencement on May 25th.

The result of this annual contest is always awaited with the keenest interest at the school and the announcement is one of the events of the year.

LLEWELLYN SIGNED

Big Southern Pitcher Did Wonders for Frederick Team.

Harry Llewellyn, the big southerner who did so well on Morrison's pitching staff last season, will return with Frederick this year. The chairman of the players' committee has received the signed contract. With the acquisition of Llewellyn, the Champs' pilot has signed a twirler who is considered of equal calibre with any player in the Blue Ridge League.

Llewellyn signed with Frederick toward the latter part of the season and proved himself a worthy asset to the squad during a crucial time of the campaign. His best game was with Jersey City and for eight long innings he managed to hold the Philadelphia Athletics at bay in another exhibition game. He is a right hander and a twirler of excellent build. He has speed and curves and probably his only set-back is that he is a little wild at times. He has had experience in the leagues higher up.

NEW REGULATION

Lafean Resolution Would Authorize Sale of Stickers at Post Offices.

Congressman Daniel F. Lafean introduced a bill in congress on Wednesday afternoon which, if made a law, will place federal documentary stamps on sale in post offices and sub-post office stations. At present their sale is only legal in the revenue departments and the banking houses. Since these places close for business at 3 o'clock daily, the stamps cannot now be obtained after that hour until the following day, frequently inconveniencing lawyers and other persons.

SPRAY PLANT BURNED

Manufacturers of Orchard Material Suffer Heavy Loss.

Fire, Thursday morning, destroyed the plant of the Hagerstown Spray Company, manufacturers of fruit-tree spraying materials. A carload of sulphur hauled to the plant Wednesday was burned. The loss is about $7,000.

NEW shapes and styles in the millinery department for Saturday. Call and see them. Prices reasonable. Thomas Brothers, Biglerville, Pa.—advertisement 1

INSURANCE collector and solicitor wanted. Must be thoroughly reliable. Address C. D. Keeny, Carlisle, Pa.—advertisement 1

VERY desirable apartment for rent. Inquire at Times office.—advertisement 1

ARRIVING HERE FOR CONVENTION

College Boys from Other Schools here to Discuss the Problem of Combating the Liquor Traffic. To Have Contest.

Representing a number of the most prominent educational institutions in Pennsylvania, students at the various colleges gathered here to-day for the annual convention of the State Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. The first session was held in Phila Hall this afternoon and the address of welcome was made by President Granville. Mark R. Shaw, New England secretary, made the response and the transaction of business occupied the remainder of the first session.

At eight o'clock this evening the meeting will be held in Brua Chapel, and it, as well as the other sessions of the convention, will be open to the public. Dr. C. F. Sanders and Dr. E. C. Dinwiddie, national legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will make the addresses. The program for Saturday is as follows:

Morning: 9 o'clock, Phila Hall, conferences conducted by Mr. Shaw, business, and convention picture. Afternoon: 2 o'clock, Phila Hall, report and election, conference on "How to Oppose the Liquor Traffic." Evening: 8 o'clock, Brua Chapel, oratorical contest with representatives present from Penn State, Franklin and Marshall, Lebanon Valley, Juniata, and Gettysburg. Dr. Granville will preside.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in Brua Chapel there will be a local temperance rally with addresses by Rev. F. F. Holsepple, of Harrisburg, and Mr. Shaw.

The officers of the association are Frederick W. Hoffman, of Gettysburg, president; Clarence A. Wagner, University of Pittsburgh, vice president; Homer W. Respass, Dickinson, secretary; George G. Weber, Penn State, treasurer; Harry L. Danda, Lebanon Valley, reporter.

RESIGNATION STANDS

Lutheran Pastor Firm in his Determination to Leave.

Rev. Austin A. Kelly will not recall his resignation as pastor of the Waynesboro Lutheran church, presented and accepted a few Sundays ago. He writes from Philadelphia to the council of the church that he cannot accede to its request to come back and resume the pastorate. He tenders sincere thanks for the compliment of the invitation but adds that for the reasons stated personally to council on the occasion of their visit to him at Gettysburg last Sunday he will be unable to make any change in his present plans to take up a charge in Philadelphia.

HOME TALENT PLAY

Young People will Present Drama in Xavier Hall.

A competent cast is training regularly now for the presentation of "The Drifters" in Xavier Hall on the evening of May 3. It will be given under the auspices of Father Corby Council P. C. B. L. The cast will be composed of the following: Miss Margaret Twomey, Miss Mary Rame, Miss Marie Codori, Miss Lucy Redding, Alban McSherry, Bernard Partridge, Charles E. Swisher, William Abell, and Martin McSherry.

GET INSURANCE

Almost $1200 Carried on Building and Contents.

The fire loss at the Hoffman Orphanage has been adjusted, the Adams County Mutual paying $519.25 on the contents; the Gettysburg Mutual $600 on the barn and $173 on the contents.

EVERY kind of suitable white goods and trimmings for sale for the graduating gown at G. W. Weaver and Son.—advertisement 1

BASKETS of all kinds Saturday fifteen cents. Ziegler's Gift Shop, Chambersburg street.—advertisement 1

DON'T forget Grace Eicholtz's summer opening, Saturday, April 8th.—advertisement 1

ROOMS papered for $2.50 up. Harry C. Gilbert.—advertisement 1

HOUSE AND BARN BURNED TO GROUND

Day before Farm is to Get Tenant Main Buildings are Destroyed. Quantity of Hay Removed Evening before Blaze.

A mysterious fire shortly after midnight Friday morning consumed a barn and the house on the farm owned by Moses Hess, located about a quarter of a mile from Benedict's school house, between East Berlin and Wellsville. There were no tenants on the farm at the time, although Melvin Harlacker had made plans to move onto the property the following day.

Neighbors Wednesday evening noticed two men with a wagon remove a quantity of hay from the barn, it is stated, but no suspicion was aroused by the strangers' action, as it was thought they had probably purchased the hay.

About midnight Wesley Weigle, residing in that vicinity, discovered the barn in flames. With some neighbors he went to the scene but found no one there. Meanwhile the blaze communicated to the house and within a short time the entire structure was destroyed.

It could not be learned whether the house or barn was insured. There were no implements in the barn, although a quantity of hay is said to have been stored there.

MARRIED AT LAST

County Elopers, Foiled Recently, are Finally Wedded.

Miss Claudine Melhorn and Eugene S. Stump, who achieved considerable publicity several months ago by eloping to Baltimore where they were taken in charge by the authorities and returned to their homes when the mother of the girl refused to give her consent to their marriage, were married Wednesday in Westminster by Rev. Dr. Slagle at the Reformed parsonage. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary B. Melhorn, and Mr. Stump is an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hamm.

MANY WANT JOB

School Board Fails in Effort to Elect a Principal.

Confronted by a list of no less than 41 applications for the position of supervising principal of the Gettysburg public schools, the board at their regular April meeting Thursday night failed to make a selection. The first ballot showed no pronounced sentiment for any one candidate and the succeeding votes got them little closer together. Among the applications are several from teachers along the Pacific Coast. No date has been set for the next election.

SECOND VICTORY

Gettysburg Wins from Arendtsville in Loosely Played Game.

Cold winds and an uneven diamond made good base ball impossible for the Gettysburg and Arendtsville high school teams on Kurtz Playground Thursday afternoon but an interesting game was played. The locals won 5-3. Arendtsville got eleven hits to Gettysburg's eight, but Prof. Reynolds' charges were fast on the bases when opportunity offered. Each team had five errors.

COUNTY TIMBER BURNS

Twenty Acres Burned over in Evening Fire Near Cashtown.

Gettysburg viewed the sunset Thursday evening through smoke arising from the timberland of George W. Schwartz, above Cashtown. About twenty acres near Rock Top were burned over. Men from Cashtown and vicinity succeeded in putting out the blaze which consumed but little large timber.

WE still have some wool blankets left from the immense stock of last fall, which we are offering at 15 to 20 per cent price reductions. When new stock comes in for fall 1916, (now bought), you'll see how much you saved if you buy now from G. W. Weaver and Son.—advertisement 1

BEST clover seed for sale. Lard wanted. Trostle's Store, Arendtsville.—advertisement 1

ROOMS papered for $2.50 up. Harry C. Gilbert.—advertisement 1

BATTLEFIELD WORK PROGRESSING WELL

Regular Squad is Going ahead with their Usual Activities with Result that Everything is in Excellent Shape.

When the first warm spring Sunday brings its hundreds of automobile tourists to Gettysburg the visitors will find everything on the battlefield in first class condition for the force of hands who have been at work the past few weeks are making excellent progress.

A number of the avenues have been repaved and their condition is much better than a few weeks ago. The water courses are being fixed and new sections laid where necessary. The underbrush is being trimmed out now on the wooded portions of the fields, and a week or two more will find every part of the government's property in prime condition.

Painting will be done on various portions of the field according to the regular schedule and fences, gun carriages, the chains at curves, and all the rest of the property will be freshened in regular turn.

The grass on the field weathered the winter very well and gives promise of being at its best during the coming summer. At a number of places new grass was sown and it is coming up well. Several of the more recently constructed sections of roadway are proving popular and they are being much used. Those connected with the field are anxious to find what will be the fate of the bill extending the government road from the Peach Orchard southward on the Emmitsburg Road.

The guards on the field report a comparatively small number of tourists up to this time, and Pennsylvania and Maryland have contributed practically all of these. While the piked roads throughout the state are in good condition, the mud roads are so bad as to prevent the usual amount of early spring travel.

LARCENY OF OATS

Is the Charge Preferred against a County Youth.

Chased across fields for some distance Russell Smith, son of William Smith, was finally caught by Constable Shealer in Highland township on Thursday and arrested on a charge of the theft of twenty bushels of oats from the barn of Clarence Weikel. The theft was discovered during the morning and Mr. Shealer was summoned. He traced the wagon tracks to the Smith place and the bags filled with oats were found in the barn. When Mr. Shealer went to the house the boy, with his brother, jumped through a window and started across the fields but was finally caught. In default of bail he was committed to jail by Squire Hill. Mr. Weikel, it is said, identified the bags at the Smith place. The latter family came from near Taneytown to this county about a year ago.

BIG STOCK SALE

More than Sixteen Thousand Dollars Realized at this One.

A number of Adams County farmers attended the big stock sale of Col. D. Harry Anthony in Washington County, Md. It amounted to $18,470. The highest priced horse brought $279, the first twenty nine that were sold averaged $234 each. The highest priced cow brought $97.50. There were 50 horses and 125 head of cattle sold.

POPULATION GROWS

Only One Section of the County where Deaths Exceed Births.

In Adams County during 1915 there were 824 births and 463 deaths, according to the statistics filed with the county commissioners by the registrars of the eleven districts. The district which embraces East Berlin and Reading township was the only one showing more deaths than births.

WE could sell our entire stock of goods bought before the recent scarcity and enormous price advances, at a profit of from ten to twenty five per cent, did we care to quit business. There are very few items in our present stock marked at any advance price, but unless something unforeseen occurs soon, it will have to come. Buy now from the store that has been forehanded for you. G. W. Weaver and Son.—advertisement 1

HANDLE LITTLE TROUT WITH CARE

Is the Admonition Given to All Fishermen who will Get their First Chance Next Week. Warning to Preserve Fish.

With the near approach of the trout season, local devotees of the sport are looking up their tackle and conjuring up all kind of visions of the speckled beauties they have laid out to capture in the mountain streams. The season opens Saturday a week, the 15th inst., and continues until July 31.

Dr. Nathan R. Buller, the state fish commissioner, in his current weekly letter, says:

"The law allows the taking of 40 trout in a day, six inches and over in length, the season for taking same being from April 15th to July 31st, both dates inclusive.

"The Department of Fisheries knows that on account of lack of knowledge the average fisherman is not familiar as to the proper handling of the brook trout. Many trout which are hooked, and on account of being under size are returned to the stream, die. The Department requests that the fishermen take every precaution and care in handling the small trout and return them to the stream with the least possible injury. This can be done by releasing the trout under the water, and in every instance the hands of the fisherman should be wet before touching the trout. To touch a trout with a dry hand means death to the trout, as it removes the slime which protects the delicate scale covering the trout.

"The Department also requests the fishermen not to fish upon the small tributaries inhabited by trout but to pick out the larger streams which are inhabited by the larger trout.

"The law provides that no device except a single rod and line can be used by the fishermen in the trout streams during the open season for the taking of trout."

MEETINGS

Town and County Organizations Make their Announcements.

A meeting of the Arendtsville Parent Teachers' Association will be held in the High School building, in Arendtsville, this evening at 7:30. An address by Dr. A. R. Weutz, of Gettysburg, will be a feature of the program.

The Bendersville W. C. T. U. will hold a mothers' meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Michener, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

An important meeting of the Royal Arcanum will be held this evening at eight o'clock.

The Boy Scouts will meet in St. James social rooms at seven o'clock this evening.

BIG MORTGAGE

Two Hundred Dollars Worth of Revenue Stamps on Papers.

Register and Recorder Gardner to-day received a trust mortgage given by the Cumberland Valley Telephone Company to the Mechanics Trust Company of Harrisburg for $750,000; also a deed from the committee of bond holders of the telephone company to the Cumberland Valley Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, conveying real estate in a large number of counties—Adams included. The papers mentioned carry $200 worth of revenue stamps and are the most extensive received during Mr. Gardner's term of office.

COMING EVENTS

Happenings Scheduled for Gettysburg during Coming Weeks.

Apr. 7-9—Intercollegiate Prohibition Convention, Brua Chapel.
Apr. 8—Final School Tests, High School building.
Apr. 13—Free Lecture, Dr. Edward A. Ross, Brua Chapel.
Apr. 14—Parent Teachers' Meeting, High School Building.
Apr. 15—Concert, College Musical Clubs, Brua Chapel.
Apr. 15—Rural Life Day Observance, Court House.
Apr. 29—Base Ball, Lebanon Valley, Nixon Field.
May 3—"The Drifters," Home Talent, Xavier Hall.
May 4—Base Ball, Bucknell, Nixon Field.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Published Daily Except Sunday
Times and News Publishing Company

W. LAVERE HAFER,
Secretary and Treasurer.

PHILIP R. BIKLE,
President.

PHILIP R. BIKLE, Editor.

Subscription Served by carrier in Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
Mailed outside of Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
RATES: Single copies to non-subscribers, 2 cents.

If you receive THE TIMES by mail you can find the date up to which you are paid on the pink address label on your paper. The date will be changed within ten days after your money is received at The Times Office.

Entered August 15, 1904, at Gettysburg, Pa., as second-class matter, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

BELL PHONE 6-M. UNITED PHONE 91-W.
Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Our advertising columns are open to all candidates of all parties. Want ads. One cent per word each insertion. Two cents a word if guaranteed first page position. Resolutions of respect, poetry and memorials one cent per word.

TO OUR READERS

The Gettysburg Times takes absolutely no part in politics, being neutral on all such matters. Anything that appears in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is furnished us by The American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan.

THE OLD BICYCLE

will work better with

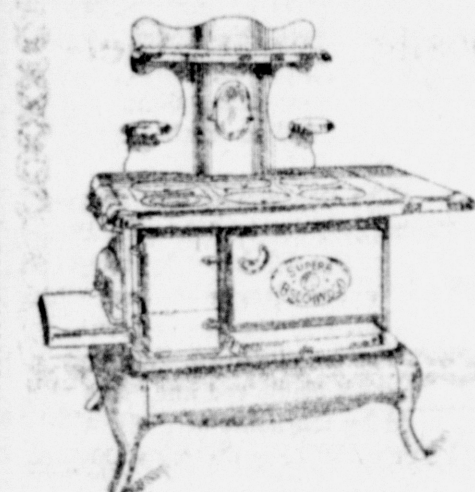

NEW TIRES

A complete new stock is here. All the various Anti-skid treads that the present market affords.

TIRES WE CAN GUARANTEE.

Adams County Hardware Co.

Superb Stoves and Ranges

The best stove on the market at anywhere near our price. The workmanship could not be improved even if you were to pay double the price asked. The metal scientifically distributed, heaviest being at points of greatest wear. For an extra good baker try the SUPERB I also make a specialty of Roofing and Spouting.

Chester Leas, ORRTANNA, PA.

Your Furniture Speaks For You

Most homes reflect their owners' good judgment and taste. Through the Furniture the home makers are known.

We offer you a wide choice in the matter of Furniture.

Don't buy until you see our goods. Can save you money.

H. B. BENDER

MILLINERY

I have a full line of Ladies' and Children's Wear.

WILL BE ON DISPLAY

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1916.

Public is invited.

MRS. H. W. KNOUSE,

Bendersville, Pa.

FOR SALE

Surrey and Spring Wagon, good as new; two sets of buggy harness; riding saddle and bridle; about one ton of mixed hay; good wheelbarrow.

Three months credit.

I. W. HARNER,
25 Steinwehr Ave.,
Gettysburg, Pa.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

Letters of Administration, with will annexed, on the estate of Catherine Staub, late of Oxford Township, Adams County, Penna., deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to said estate to make immediate payment, and persons having claims against said estate to present same without delay, to

JOHN S. WEAVER,
Administrator c. t. a.
New Oxford, Penna.

Or to,
William Hersh, Esq.,
Attorney for estate.
March 29th, 1916.

EACH SIDE GAINS NORTH OF VERDUN

Germans Get Haucourt and French Take Woods.

FIERCE ALL NIGHT BATTLE

The Teutons Seized the Stronghold After Terrific Assaults and Many Checks.

London, April 7.—Strong German attacks were launched both northwest and northeast of Verdun, the French war office stated.

After repeated checks, in which they suffered enormous losses, the Teutons finally succeeded in entering Haucourt, which lies about half a mile south of Malancourt and seven to eight miles northwest of Verdun. It is directly west of Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill), and lies on the western edge of the French salient the apex of which is now at Bethin court.

The Germans have not only taken Haucourt, but also a position constituting an important point of support to the eastward, the Berlin war office announced. The operations against Verdun are proceeding methodically and with continued success, according to the German official reports. The success at Haucourt, it is declared, menaces, with complete envelopment, the French forces holding the salient.

The French war office announced the capture by the French of a large portion of the position north of Avo court known as Bois Carro or "square woods." This ground was captured in the course of fighting which went on all of Wednesday afternoon and night, west of the Meuse on the Avo court-Bethincourt line. The Bois Carro is a patch of woodland lying south of the Malancourt forest and flanking the highway between Avo court and Malancourt.

Two attacks were made by German troops against French positions north of Callette woods, but they were with out result.

A terrific bombardment by the Germans on the Avo court-Bethincourt front preceded the attack against the French salient. This was followed by attempts to capture Bethincourt, but the Germans were driven back with heavy losses. These attacks were followed by still others farther to the south where the Germans had better success, taking Haucourt.

BRITON WOULD BE GERMAN

H. S. Chamberlain Applies for Naturalization in Bavaria.

Bayreuth, Bavaria, April 7.—Houston Stewart Chamberlain, the author, has applied for naturalization as a Bavarian subject.

Mr. Chamberlain has lived in Germany since his youth, although he is still a British subject.

Mr. Chamberlain, the son of a British rear admiral, is the husband of Eva, reputed to be the oldest daughter of Richard Wagner until her mother, the composer's widow, declared two years ago that Mrs. Chamberlain was the child of her first husband Hans von Bülow. Mr. Chamberlain has written several articles supporting Germany and holding England responsible for the war.

BRITISH CAPTURE FELAHII

Mesopotamia Expedition Gets Nearer to Besieged Garrison.

London, April 7.—The town of Felahie, in Mesopotamia, has been captured by the British, it was announced officially.

All the positions gained have been consolidated, and counter attacks by the Turks repulsed.

Felahie is on the Tigris below Kut-el-Amara, where a British force under General Townshend is beleaguered. This is the second victory of the British to be reported in the last two days, the capture of Umm-el-Ahena about twenty miles below Kut-el-Amara, having been announced Wednesday.

German Clocks to be Set Ahead 1 Hour

Berlin, April 7.—The German federal council has passed a measure providing that on May 1 all clocks shall be set ahead one hour. The measure was proposed for hygienic and economic reasons, to lengthening working time during daylight and decrease the necessity for artificial light.

Operation Gives Sight.

Lehigh, Pa., April 7.—Born blind, Ida Friend now can see. She has passed her twenty-fifth year. Restoration came by an operation performed at the Wills Eye hospital, Philadelphia. Surgeons say she ultimately will have excellent vision.

Buried in Debris, He Smokes

New York, April 7.—A part of the first floor at 4 John street fell and buried a laborer working in the basement. After an hour the victim was found beneath a pile of beams and bricks smoking a cigarette.

Ancient Curios Stolen.

Rome, April 7.—Thieves entered the Etruscan museum of Corneto, an Italian town on the Mediterranean in the province of Rome, and stole the famous collection of ancient coins, cameos and jewels on exhibition.

The Easier Way.

"Don't you want to be a leader of the people?" "It's hard work to be a real leader," commented Senator Sorghum. "It's usually easier to get along by jollyng the crowd."—Washington Star.

CARDINAL GASQUET

Arranged Audience of Asquith With the Pope.

Photo by American Press Association.

Cardinal Gasquet, of England, stands almost alone among members of the Sacred college in proclaiming that the pontiff should recognize that the allies are fighting for the basic principle of Christianity.

DARING BANK ROBBERS GET $10,000 IN VAULT

Houston, Pa., Institution Raided by Two Men.

Canonsburg, Pa., April 7.—Two men robbed the First National bank of Houston, near here, of $15,000, and escaped in an automobile.

Joseph K. McNutt, cashier of the bank, was alone at his window when an automobile drove up in front of the building. A man carrying in his hand a piece of paper about the size of a check, and laid it on the counter in front of the cashier. On the paper was written, "Make a move and you will be shot." McNutt looked up to find himself facing an automatic pistol.

Meantime, the other occupant of the automobile had left the machine and made his way to the door leading to the cashier's cage, which happened to be open. McNutt was forced to lie on the floor and one of the robbers guarded him while the other went through the vault. He collected $15,000 in bills ranging in denomination from $1 to $20, but did not touch the $2000 in gold or $1000 in silver. The men then told McNutt to lie perfectly still, which he did while they hurried to the automobile and drove quickly away in the direction of Canonsburg. McNutt gave the police a description of the robber who faced him at the window.

DEMANDS SECURITIES

Holland Takes Up Mail Controversy With England.

The Hague, April 7.—Holland has demanded from England the return of valuable securities and documents seized in the mails taken from Dutch ships by vessels of the British navy. Official announcement to this effect was made. At the same time, the government issued for publication the diplomatic communications exchanged by Great Britain and Holland over the seizures of mails on Dutch ships.

Lad Drowned in Cave.

Avoca, Pa., April 7.—David Geddes, three years old, son of William Geddes fell into a mine cave while in the rear of his home and was drowned in three feet of water. The cave occurred some time ago, and during the recent rains became filled with water.

German U-Boat Sunk by Allies.

Paris, April 7.—The sinking of a German submarine and the capture of her crew on Wednesday was announced by the ministry of marine. A combined squadron of French warships participated.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Atlantic City....	42	Clear.
Boston.....	46	Clear.
Buffalo.....	39	Cloudy.
Chicago.....	34	Clear.
New Orleans....	66	Rain.
New York.....	45	Cloudy.
Philadelphia....	56	Rain.
St. Louis.....	42	P. Cloudy.
Washington....	54	Rain.

The Weather.

Fair and colder today; tomorrow increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain at night.

High Standard.

Let us so live that when we are nominated for a public office we shall not have people saying of us that once upon a time we milked a widow woman's cow while the owner was at church.—Dallas News.

VILLA LEADING CHASE SOUTH

Task of U. S. Soldiers is Growing Harder.

TRAPPED, SAYS GUTIERREZ

Carranza Leaders Declare Bandit Leader is Surrounded and Cannot Escape Capture or Death.

El Paso, Tex., April 7.—"Panchito" Villa is leading the pursuing American troops farther and farther into the interior of Mexico and daily the task of catching the bandit chieftain is growing harder.

Additional forces have been rushed to the army's advance base at Casas Grandes by General Funston, but General Funston, at San Antonio, has received no word from General Pershing as to the movements of the advanced cavalry columns or the progress made by the troopers in their man-hunting chase through the mountainous region to the south of and in the region of Guerrero.

Official despatches from the army headquarters at San Antonio say Villa now is supposed to be "somewhere south of Satevo" and that this information is based on information from Consul Letcher, of Chihuahua, that Villa was south of that point several days ago. From Satevo, trails lead east and south and if Villa did go to Satevo it is regarded by General Funston as practically certain that he has continued toward Parral. General Pershing's forces continue to scour the district about Guerrero to clear that part of the bands scattered at the fight at Guerrero as much as to locate Villa, who many insist still is hiding within a half-day's ride of Guerrero.

Rumors continue to reach El Paso as to the proximity of the American forces to Villa. A late despatch from Mexico City said General Gutierrez reported to the Mexican war department that the capture of Francisco Villa within a very short time was certain. He said constitutionalist forces again were reported to have located Villa and surrounded him.

It also is reported, General Gutierrez said, that a combined force of constitutionalist troops from the states of Jalisco, Aguas Calientes and Zacatecas is closing on General Bracamonte, who, with large force of Villa cavalry, has been located near Juchitlan, in southern Zacatecas.

Word comes from San Antonio that General Funston asked the war department to send the recruits, enlisted under the recent authorization of 20,000 additional men, to Brownsville, Texas, for distribution among the border patrol regiments. The recruits are being assembled and drilled at recruiting stations at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Columbus Barracks, O.; Fort Logan, Col.; and Fort Alcatraz, Cal. They will not be sent across the border, but will fill up regiments of the border guard.

At General Funston's request, a battery of the Fourth Field Artillery, which had been ordered from Brownsville to the Panama canal zone, will remain on the border, in view of Mexican conditions.

This move by Funston is taken to indicate that he plans to send more troops into Mexico, and already he has purchased 108 additional motor trucks to be added to the supply train to counteract the failure of General Carranza to live the United States forces the use of the Mexican Northwestern railroad for shipment of army supplies.

BANDITS WRECK TRAIN

Shoot Women and Children as They Crawl From Coaches.

Laredo, Tex., April 7.—Fifty persons, including women and children, were murdered by bandits between Torreon and Zacatecas, March 28, when the marauders wrecked a passenger train, according to word brought by passengers.

The bandits, according to the report, wrecked the train in a hilly section, far from any place of habitation, and shot down the passengers, one by one, as they emerged from the wreckage. When all the passengers were killed or wounded, the bandits set fire to the wreckage, and cremated the bodies.

A military train, following the passenger, reached the wreck shortly afterward, but turned back to Torreon without giving aid. Other details were not available.

Hangs Himself in Belfry.

New York, April 7.—Under the belfry of Old St. Paul's chapel the sexton hanged himself, Philip G. Walter, firing, as he had recently complained, of the monotony of his position after thirty-one years of service at the famous edifice at Broadway and Vesey street, climbed upon a piano stool which he had placed upon a table, fastened a sash around his neck, tied the end of this cord to the stairs leading to the belfry and kicked the stool from under him.

Mutinous Crew Kills Sailor.

Norfolk, Va., April 7.—A seaman has been killed in a mutiny on board the schooner Maine off Sewall's Point, according to word from there. The United States marshal has left for the scene. The Maine sails from Baltimore.

More Serviceable Umbrella Jars.

By placing a large carriage sponge in the bottom of an umbrella jar you will prevent umbrellas from striking the bottom of the jar and breaking it. The sponge will also absorb the water from a dripping umbrella.

MARSHAL VON HARSLER

Oldest Officer on Active Duty in German Army

Photo by American Press Association.

Field Marshal von Harsler, eighty years of age, is with the German forces near Verdun as adviser to the crown prince in the offensive against the great French fortress.

ZEPPELINS REVISITS BRITAIN; KILL CHILD

Strike North England, Near Hull and Leeds.

Berlin, April 7.—The German air raid announced that German airships Wednesday night silenced a battery near Hull, England, with bombs, and destroyed a large iron works with blast furnaces and extensive establishments near Whitby. The airships returned safely.

The raiders also attacked factories in Leeds and the surrounding region and several railroad stations in the industrial districts.

Zeppelins Kill Child.

London, April 7.—One child was killed and eight other persons were injured in a Zeppelin raid Wednesday night. It was officially announced.

The official statement says: The air raid of Wednesday night on northeastern counties apparently was carried out by three Zeppelins. The first one made an attack about 9.19 o'clock P. M., but was driven off by the fire of anti-aircraft guns after dropping five bombs, which caused no damage or casualties. Numerous observers state that this Zeppelin was struck by gun fire.

The second raider made its appearance in another locality at about 10.15 o'clock P. M. Although it was in the neighborhood for some time, no bombs were dropped.

Another raider delivered an attack in a third locality during the night. Although several bombs were dropped, only slight material damage was done.

The total number of bombs dropped was twenty-four explosive and twenty-four incendiary. No military damage was done.

SEEKING SMOKIEST CITY

Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago Being Investigated.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 7.—An investigation to determine if Pittsburgh is really the Smoky City or whether others should go to some other city has been instituted under the auspices of the Mellon Institute, University of Pittsburgh.

Other cities in the contest are Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago. In order to ascertain the amount of soot fall, glass jars four inches in diameter and ten inches deep have been placed in various sections of each city.

New Demand on Carranza.

Queretaro, Mexico, April 7.—First Chief Carranza received at Hacienda San Bartolo a diplomatic communication from the United States government, which is understood to ask the unlimited use of Mexican railways by American troops. Officials said General Carranza probably would answer at once.

Fear 50 Dead on Torpedoed Ship.

Queenstown, April 7.—The British steamship Zent has been torpedoed without warning west of Fastnet. Forty-eight members of her crew are missing and are supposed to have been drowned. Two men were killed. Captain Martin and nine of the crew have landed here.

Man Found Dead of Gas.

Reading, Pa., April 7.—A man and a woman were found in a rooming house here, the man dead and the woman unconscious. In the man's effects was found a card bearing the name of C. A. Hawley, a bond salesman, of New York.

Both Dear.

"My dear wife spent" "Let early years in a milliner's shop," said a wealthy self-made man the other day. "Mine spends most of her time there now," growled his friend. "She's pretty dear, too."—Stray Stories.

PERSONAL NOTES AND BRIEF ITEMS

Short Paragraphs of Personal News, Telling of Guests in Town Homes and those Visiting out of Town.

Mr. and Mrs. William Little and daughter have returned to their home on West Middle street after a visit with friends in Harrisburg.

Miss Margaret Kendeheart, of West Middle street, and Miss Esther Crouse, of Baltimore street, are spending the day in York.

Mrs. J. A. Singmaster, of Seminary Ridge, has gone to Palmerton to visit friends for several days.

Mrs. E. M. Bender, of Carlisle street, Mrs. H. B. Bender and Mrs. Charles Toot, of Baltimore street, are spending the day in Harrisburg.

John Reed Scott Esq., of Carlisle street, made a business trip to Washington to-day.

Robert Schnitzer, of Westminster is spending several days at the home of R. A. Myers, Centre Square.

Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal is spending several weeks at Wayne. Dr. O'Neal is steadily recovering from the illness which has confined him to a hospital for some weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Stahley have moved from North Washington street, into their new home on Gettysburg Academy campus.

Miss Ethel Culp has returned to Irving College, Mechanicsburg, after spending the spring vacation at her home on York street.

Miss Katie Raffensperger, of East Middle street, is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Billmyer, of Quakertown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armor, of Philadelphia, and Harry Armor, of Baltimore, have returned to their homes after spending several days here.

Rev. Albert Hollinger, of York street, was a business visitor in York on business.

E. P. Wisotzky, of Washington street, is spending several days in Baltimore.

Mrs. F. C. Gilbert has returned to Baltimore after visiting relatives here for the past several days.

Thomas H. Nixon has returned to West Point, after spending the past week at his home on Carlisle street.

C. S. Duncan Esq., of Lincoln avenue, is in Washington, D. C., for several days.

ANNUAL EVENT

Veterans Tell of Events at Close of the Civil War.

W. A. McIlhenny, Nicholas Wierman, and Levi Munster made speeches at the Appomattox Day celebration in the Post Room Thursday evening. The fifty first anniversary of Lee's surrender occurs on Sunday next. Thursday evening's meeting was under the direction of W. L. Meals Esq., patriotic instructor of the Sons of Veterans.

Wail of a Copy Reader

I've learned to locate Sdobunov when stories mention Sizz. I do not need to hunt a map. I know right where it is. Cettine doesn't puzzle me. I'm wise to Medvink. And all those weird localities where consonants are thick. But that can't help me any now. Today I've got to settle. Disputes about Telacataplan and Popocatapetl. Dvinsk and Minsk and Turtechnisk are places I know well. The Russian map bears scarce a name I haven't learned to spell. Chankak Kallessi, Artikli, Kikitch and Ak-bunur. And other Turkish towns to me devoid of terror are. But that does not assist me now. Today I've got to know. If Barsubtrichic is south or west of Chimbampo.

Presmyal was an easy one when once I'd learned to read. The name without the consonants I found I didn't need. Mahabades and Kalabak, Ptilip and Val-vondos. Were just as soft as any names I ever came across. But that avails me nothing now. Today I've got to show. The same familiarity with all of Mexico. —James J. Montague in New York American.

Champion Big Boy.

Champion big boy of Ocean county, N. J., is sixteen, six feet three inches tall, weighs 300 pounds and is champion sprinter and hammer thrower. Besides being employed in factory, night cashier in picture theater and official scorer of ball club.

Their Lives Much Alike.

Arnold and Harold Meintzer, twins, of Wauson, O., who on Oct. 20, 1909, married Edna and Elva Conklin, also twins, simultaneously have sought divorces, claiming their wives deserted them on the same day, March 4, 1913.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who rendered every possible aid during the past months of father's sickness. By his daughter, Mrs. William L. Deardorff.—advertisement.

ROOSEVELT STOCK RISING RAPIDLY

Sentiment In Favor of Ex-President Grows Daily.

OLD GUARD CANNOT FORGET

Assert That 3,000,000 Republicans Oppose Colonel Because He Brought De-ago to Republican Party Four Years Ago—Young Men Staunch Supporters. Uncle Joe as a Conservationist.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, April 7.—[Special.]—“Three million Republicans believe that Theodore Roosevelt was responsible for the defeat of the Republican party in 1912. They are not going to consent to rewarding Roosevelt with the presidency. That is the reason why the Republicans will not nominate him.”

Substantially that is what one hears from men who do not want Roosevelt nominated and from Democrats who do not want him elected if nominated. At the same time the nearer the time approaches for making the nomination there is more and more insistence upon Roosevelt among a certain class of Republicans, some of whom were opposed to Roosevelt during the last part of his term and others who fought him with bitterness in 1912.

Will Try to Put Him Over.
Whether Roosevelt is playing the game and he is the shrewdest politician the country has known—or whether he is letting matters drift his way is not quite certain, but there is no doubt that a great effort will be made to put him over at Chicago. The fellows who are going to rally to his support will not only be the men who were for him four years ago, but there will be quite a number of old regulars who want a strong, vigorous candidate, one who will inspire the fighting blood of the party.

Another thing that is working for Roosevelt is the admiration of the younger men. It has always been asserted that there were enough first voters in every presidential election to carry the country, and it is claimed that a great preponderance of these first voters will be for Roosevelt.

Uncle Joe, Conservationist.
“I am a conservationist,” declared Uncle Joe Cannon, much to the surprise of the house. “I am tired of seeing the forests of this country cut down and converted into print paper and to print many newspapers and magazines and the recollections of people and statistics and reports here and there. We have got to stop it or the country will be deprived of its forests.”

Uncle Joe has occupied about as much space on print paper as any other man—with only one exception, the universal exception to all rules.

When It Comes to Pork.
When it comes to the distribution of pork there is no difference between Republicans and Democrats. On this subject one day Jim Mann, told the house, “We are bad enough, the Lord knows, but you Democrats are a little worse.”

There had been under discussion a proposition to turn over to the South Carolina naval militia an immigrant station at Charleston. During the debate it transpired that the station had never been opened; that no immigrants went to Charleston, and that the station was one of several that were built at a time when New York and Philadelphia secured improved facilities.

But it should be remembered that the people of a congressional district usually measure a man's usefulness by his ability to extract money from the federal treasury to be expended in his district.

Names in the First Census.

Former Speaker Cannon introduced into the immigration debate the matter of names in the first census of the country. He had been delving into those old musty records and came up with the fact that there are 135 members of congress whose family names were not in the census, which he asserted was the “Almanac de Gotha” of the United States. What he was setting out to prove was that most of our people are descendants of immigrants since the Revolution. He was opposing the literacy test in the immigration bill and also was opposed to the restriction of immigration.

Suggestions About Health.

The United States public health service issues bulletins and information about health conditions from time to time. Some of them contain sharp and short suggestions, as, for instance, the following:

“Sags in roof gutters may act as mosquito breeding places.”

“America's most valuable crop is babies.”

“The public cigar cutter is a health nuisance.”

“The typhoid rate measures accurately community intelligence.”

Practical Gallinger.

During a speech by Senator Underwood, the author of the present tariff law, Senator Gallinger took this practical view of present conditions: “The senate spent an hour discussing the cause of the rise in the price of gasoline. Would not the country be better pleased if we spent some time in trying to remedy the high cost of every thing that enters in the necessities of life?”

Inviscious Advice.

Doctor—“Madam, you must take more exercise. I should advise walking every day.” Wealthy Lady—“Walking! My dear doctor, you must be accustomed to attending poor people!”

WILL TRY TO FLY ACROSS ATLANTIC

Wanamaker Expects to Make Journey In Thirty Hours.

AEROPLANE IS BEING BUILT

Largest Machine Ever Designed Is Expected to Be Pioneer of Fleet of Transatlantic Air Liners—Has 1,500 Horsepower and Will Carry a Crew of Six Men.

Rodman Wanamaker will attempt to fly across the Atlantic next June in an aeroplane constructed for him by the Curtiss Aeroplane company. In a letter to the Aero Club of America Mr. Wanamaker signified his intention of making the flight. He asked the co-operation of the club. He said: “Supplementing my letter of Feb. 4, 1914, signifying my intention of making a purely scientific test of aeronautical power by crossing the ocean in one flight, I beg to advise you of the following developments:—

“First, Lieutenant (now Commander) John C. Porter, who was to command the America, was called to his country by the war, thus temporarily stopping preparations for the flight.

New Flier Ten Times the Power.
“Second, pursuing my purpose—to build an air craft that will cross the ocean—the America Transatlantic company was incorporated, and the company, acting for me, has placed an order with the Curtiss Aeroplane company for a new craft that will have more than ten times the power of the old one. It will be of special design, entirely different from any air craft heretofore built, and especially adapted for alighting on and arising from rough seas and therefore eminently fitted for the transatlantic flight. It is now under construction and will be tested at the Atlantic coast aeronautical station at Newport News.

“I still believe that the first crossing of the ocean will bring quickly in its train aerial liners which will regularly cross in the air from continent to continent, for, as I said in my other letter, the crossing of the Atlantic in one flight of an air craft is, to my mind, as important to aerial navigation as was the voyage of Columbus to transportation by water. Once the Atlantic is crossed in a single flight of an airship, there will soon follow regular transatlantic trips and a fixed safe transatlantic air line.

Mere Problem of Science.
“The crossing of the Atlantic by air is not a matter merely of initiative, nor of daring, nor even of skill; it is a problem of science. I hope to see the day when the American Transatlantic company will be running aerial liners regularly across the Atlantic and other oceans.”

Though details of the new machine have not been made public, it is said it is a new departure and will be the largest machine ever built; that it will have six twelve-cylinder motors of 300 horsepower each and will be able to make 100 miles an hour with a crew of six persons, fuel, instruments, provisions and other equipment. It is expected that the flight will take about thirty hours.

Aeronautical authorities received Mr. Wanamaker's suggestion with enthusiasm and agreed that such a flight is possible. John Hays Hammond, Jr., Professor David Todd of Amherst, Alan Hawley and Henry Woodhouse are among those who expressed their belief in the possibilities of such a flight.

FUNDS FOR ALMA MATER.

Princeton Men Take Out Insurance Policies For Their College.

Insuring their lives in favor of their college is the latest method which has been devised by the senior class at Princeton university for raising an alumni memorial fund. The system has been approved by both the Princeton graduate council and the board of trustees, and it is expected that after twenty-five years the class will have at least $50,000 to present to the university.

The insurance policies will be taken out individually by the members of the graduation class, and the premiums will range roughly from $4 to $15 per year, bringing in a return of from $100 to $400 each. The policies are to be held by a large insurance company and will be divided into three classes, the entire principal being paid to the university after twenty-five years.

This is the first Princeton class to have undertaken this system of raising funds. Previous classes have organized memorial committees, and through these committees secured individual contributions each year.

Trunchers in the Trenches.

Trunchers, a small English village, has sent all of its men—sixty five out of a population of 300—to the front, which is said to be a higher percentage than that of any other town in Great Britain. “Every Truncher has gone to the trench,” is the way the neighboring villagers express it.

Woman Acted as Governor.

Woman stenographer performed duties of governor of Missouri two days when governor and lieutenant governor were away and governor's secretary was sick.

LOST: pocketbook containing sum of money. Reward if returned Orner's store.—advertisement

LETTERS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

Correspondents Send in Items of Personal and General Interest in their Communities. Short Paragraphs.

WENKSVILLE

Wenksville—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Black spent Sunday with Edward Starner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fenton visited at the home of H. C. Warren on Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Brinkerhoff and two children, Lloyd and Margaret, and Edna McCauslin visited at the home of Moses Black on Saturday.

Miss Ruth Kuhn, of Tolen, spent a few days with William Kuhn and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Heller spent Sunday at the home of William Noel. Mrs. Willis Black and daughters, Marian and Irene, spent Monday with John Taylor and family, of Center Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heller, of Biglerville, visited friends and relatives of this place, recently.

Misses Eva and Virgie Beamer and Cora Wolfe spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Baldwin, of Brysonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Heller and children, Guy and Charles, spent Sunday with William Kuhn and family.

Miss Fannie Beamer spent a few days recently with her sister, Mrs. Reuben Crum, of Bendersville.

Mrs. John Myers and daughters, Lovina and Cora, are spending a few days with Robert McCauslin.

Miss Eva Beamer is visiting at the home of Daniel Beamer, of Bendersville.

There will be preaching services in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

CHURCH NOTICES

METHODIST

R. S. Oyler Ph. D. pastor. Sunday School 9:30; Prof. J. H. Ashworth superintendent; Junior League, 2:30; Epworth League, 6:15, subject, “Following the Peace Prints”; evening service, 7:00, subject of sermon, “A Kingdom of Violence.”

ARENDTSTOWN REFORMED

Sunday School, 9 a. m.; church service, 10 a. m.; Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m.

BIGLERVILLE REFORMED

Sunday School, 1 p. m.; church service, 2 p. m.; catechism at 3.

CHRIST LUTHERAN, ASPERS

Sunday School, 9:30; Christian Endeavor, 6:45; missionary service, 7:30.

FAIRFIELD PRESBYTERIAN

Service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Stratton Street; Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 7:30 by Rev. D. B. Wineman.

Marsh Creek; Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 10:30, by Rev. E. F. Lightner.

Friends' Grove; Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 10:30, by Rev. E. K. Leatherman.

WANT NO HUNTING

Until Game Birds in the County have Had Chance to Multiply.

In order to protect the ring neck pheasants and turkeys which have been received here for distribution over the county, the Adams County Fish and Game Protective Association will ask that a “closed period” of two years be declared and no hunting for those birds allowed during that time. Eight turkeys, fourteen pheasants, and eighteen quail have been received and will be distributed as follows:

Turkeys, one trio, Middle Ridge, above Cashtown; one trio, Marsh Creek Hollow, upper end of county; a pair east of Orrtanna. Pheasants, one pair in vicinity of Joseph Taylor farm, one pair near Fairfield, one pair near Round Hill, one pair on George Wolf land, one pair near York Springs, and one pair near Arendtstown. Quail, two sets on Wolf Hill, one set near Cashtown, one set at Middle creek, one set on Bushman farm, one set near Arendtstown, one set on James Eicholtz farm and one set on Dr. Markley's farm.

This distribution was determined upon at a meeting held Thursday evening when members of the association declared themselves as opposed to the proposed fishermen's license and authorized the drafting of resolutions protesting against the measure.

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

GERMAN AIR MAN DESCRIBES RAID

Kill Women and Children Without Intention, He Says.

WEARS THE IRON CROSS.

Commander of Wrecked Zeppelin L-15 Says Raids Are Meant to Destroy Armed Positions, Warships and Factories and the Slaughter of Innocents is Incidental—Calls It War.

“I do not think you would find an officer of the German navy or army who would willingly participate in the killing of women and children.”

So said Lieutenant Commander Breithaupt, commander of the Zeppelin L-15, which was hit by shell fire in a recent raid on English towns and later sank in the Thames estuary, when asked to explain the psychology of German air raids on London.

“I am very well satisfied with my treatment here,” he continued, “but naturally feel the loss of my freedom. As to air raids, we have a much more important object in view than the killing of women and children—namely, the destroying of the enemy's armed positions, warships and factories. Women and children become the victims of our operations, but not because we kill them intentionally. It is war.”

Wears the Iron Cross.

The commander refused to tell where the airship came from or to answer any questions regarding the length and duration of his raid or whether he participated in previous raids. But the iron cross with which he was decorated bore the date of the air raid of October, 1915, and he informed the interviewer that he has been in the Zeppelin service since hostilities began.

Asked whether he knew the location of the airship during raids in the darkness and whether he could distinguish buildings and other objects at night, he asserted that he could tell almost exactly, but could not say whether the bombs fell where they were intended to fall except in some instances.

Commander Breithaupt, who was a regular naval officer before the war, served in Australasian waters and also in South America. He said he was acquainted with numbers of British naval men and did not feel any hatred for them, but was doing his duty in fighting the enemies of Germany.

Prepared to Take Chances.

Asked if he participated gladly in air raids, he replied:

“Yes. I do my duty as an officer gladly. As to the risks in air fighting, we know the chances we run and are prepared to take them. Our air craft was hit three times by shrapnel, and we came down very rapidly into the water, where we found ourselves almost by surprise.”

With respect to the altitude at which the raiding Zeppelins flew, he admitted that the height was very great, but evaded nearer particulars, merely smiling when 5,000 feet was mentioned and saying:

“We should not reach England if we flew only at that height.”

Lieutenant Kuehne, second in command, was more reticent, but said that it was his first raid on England. “I had hoped to come again,” he added.

Air Craft Was 3,000 Feet High.

The airship was flying at about 3,000 feet over the Thames estuary when suddenly, according to the crew, the craft dashed down to the surface of the water. None would admit that bombs had been dropped during the raid, probably from the unfounded fear that any such admission would entail punishment.

The L-15 was literally surrounded by British craft when brought down in the Thames estuary and did not have much time to escape, according to a young lieutenant of one of the British aeroplanes.

“First we sighted two Zeppelins,” he says. “They were followed closely by three others, all flying at about 10,000 feet toward the southeast coast. We signaled the land batteries and got out of the zone of fire ourselves.”

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Three Zeppelins Suffered.

“Three of the Zeppelins received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upward. One of the balloons had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upward until it disappeared from view. Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect; but, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

“I cannot be sure whether the airship fell or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signaled the destroyers and patrols and got within 200 yards of the derelict ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up.”

Waited Thirty-nine Years on Job.

Thirty-nine years ago G. H. Fowler of Dennison, O., applied to the United States war department for a job as caretaker of a government cemetery. He got a form letter saying his application had been filed with 30,000 others. He has just received a letter saying he now heads the list and if he still wants a place please answer.

Sent Over the Telephone.

Mistress—“Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?” Bridget—“Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum.”—Toledo Blade.

Jane Addams Has Tuberculosis.

New York, April 7.—Miss Jane Addams, noted Chicago social worker, is suffering from kidney tuberculosis and is in a precarious state of health, though her condition shows some improvement. Miss Emily Greene Balch announced before she sailed to sit as an alternate for Miss Addams at the Ford peace tribunal in Stockholm.

Mining Records Broken.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 7.—Demand for coal in the mills is such that mining records are being broken almost daily. At the Vesta Mines Nos. 4 and 5, of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, about two acres of coal, nearly 12,000 tons, are being taken out every day. This work requires 9,000 miners.

PUBLIC SALE

ON SATURDAY, April 22, 1916.

The undersigned, having sold his milk route, will sell at Public Sale at his farm in Straban Township, midway between Granite Station and Hunterstown, his entire herd of fine Dairy Cattle, consisting of:

20 FINE MILK COWS

3 fresh by day of sale, 3 with calves just sold off, 2 will be fresh in May, 1 in July. The rest are fall and winter cows. There are some well bred Jerseys and Guernseys in this herd; also one large Holstein Cow that is now milking nearly eight gallons of milk daily—come see her milked. These cattle are most all young, pure and easy milkers, and there are few finer herds in the county. One Red Durham BULL, fit for service.

20 HEAD OF FINE HOGS

1 Chester White Sow, due to farrow beginning of April; balance Shoats ranging from six-weeks' old pigs to 15-lb. shoats.

Henck Junior corn worker, in good order, 1 set wagon springs, one ton capacity.

Sale to begin at 1:30 P. M., sharp, when terms will be made known by CLARENCE I. SNYDER, G. R. Thompson, Auct.

I will be in Gettysburg every TUESDAY at Penrose Myers' Jewelry store, to examine eyes and fit glasses.

W. H. DINKLE, Graduate of Optics.

Home Office, 29 E. Pennet St., Carlisle, Pa.

SHERIEF'S SALE

The TURMOIL

NOVEL
BOOTH TARKINGTON
AUTHOR OF
"MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE"
"THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN"
"PENROD" ETC.

COPYRIGHT 1915 BY HARPER & BROTHERS

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Sheridan's attempt to make a business man of his son Bibbs by starting him in the machine shop ends in Bibbs going to a sanitarium, a nervous wreck.

CHAPTER II—On his return Bibbs is met at the station by his sister Edith.

CHAPTER III—He finds himself in an inconsiderable and unconsidered figure in the "New House" of the Sheridans. He sees Mary Vertrees looking at him from a summer house next door.

CHAPTER IV—The Vertreeses, old town family and impoverished, call on the Sheridans, newly-rich, and afterward discuss them. Mary puts into words her parents' unspoken wish that she marry one of the Sheridan boys.

CHAPTER V—At the Sheridan house, warning banquet Sheridan spreads himself. Mary frankly encourages Jim Sheridan's attention, and Bibbs hears he is to be sent back to the machine shop.

CHAPTER VI—Mary tells her mother about the banquet and shocks her mother by talking of Jim as a matrimonial possibility.

CHAPTER VII—Sheridan tells Bibbs he must go back to the machine shop as soon as he is strong enough, in spite of Bibbs' plea to be allowed to write.

CHAPTER VIII—Edith and Bibbs, Roscoe Sheridan's wife, quarrel over Bobby Lamborn. Bibbs goes to Mary for help to keep Lamborn from marrying Edith, and Mary leaves her in the room alone.

CHAPTER XI.

Standing in the black group under gaunt trees at the cemetery, three days later, Bibbs unwillingly let an old, old thought become definite in his mind: the sickly brother had buried the strong brother, and Bibbs wondered how many million times that had happened since men first made a world to name the sons of one mother. At most literally he had buried his strong brother, for Sheridan had gone to pieces when he saw his dead son. He had nothing to help him meet the shock, neither definite religion nor "philosophy" definite or indefinite. He could only beat his forehead and beg, over and over, to be killed with an ax, while his wife was helpless except to entreat him not to "take on," herself adding a continuous lamentation.

Edith, weeping, made truce with Sibyl and saw to it that the mourning garments were beyond criticism.

Roscoe was dazed, and he shirked, justifying himself curiously by saying he

"Not Jim!" said Sheridan.

"never had any experience in such matters." So it was Bibbs, the shy outsider, who became, during that dreadful little time, the master of the house; for as strange a thing as that, sometimes, may be the result of a death.

"Dust to dust," said the minister, under the gaunt trees; and at that Sheridan shook convulsively from head to foot. All of the black group shivered except Bibbs. He had been close upon dust himself for a long, long time, and the machine shop, if he had to go back to it, would probably bring him closer still. To Bibbs' knowledge, no one and nothing had ever prevented his father from carrying through his plans. He had the gift of terrible persistence, and with unflinching confidence that his way was the only way, he would hold to that way of "making a man" of Bibbs, who understood very well, in his passive and impersonal fashion, that it was a way which might make, not a man, but dust of him. But he had no shudder for the thought.

The truth about Bibbs was in the poem which Edith had adopted. But he had not hidden his feelings about his father where they could not be found. He was strange to his father, but his father was not strange to him. He knew that Sheridan's plans were conceived in the stubborn belief that they would bring about a good thing for Bibbs himself; and whatever the result was to be, the son had no bitterness. Far otherwise, for as he looked at the big, woeful figure, shaking and tortured, an almost unbearable

mer. My brother Roscoe whipped me once, when we were boys, for stepping on his slate pencil. It took me so long to tell him it was an accident, he finished before I did.

Mary Vertrees had never heard anything quite like the drawing, gentle voice or the odd implication that his not noticing the motionless state of their vehicle was an "accident." At once she discovered that it was unlike any of her cursory and vague imaginings of him. And suddenly she had a glimpse of Bibbs' life and into his life.

She had a queer feeling, new to her experience, of knowing him instantly. It startled her a little; she did not realize, however, that she had made no response to his apology, and they passed out of the cemetery gates, neither having spoken again.

Bibbs was so content with the silence he did not know that it was silence. The dusk, gathering in their small enclosure, was filled with a rich presence for him; and presently it was so dark that neither of the two could see the other, nor did even their garments touch. But neither had any sense of being alone. The wheels creaked steadily, rumbling presently on paved streets; there were the sounds, as from a distance, of the plied-pied of the horses. Oblivions of light came lancing into the coupe, and passed, leaving greater darkness. And yet neither of these two last attendants at Jim Sheridan's funeral broke the silence.

It was Mary who perceived the strangeness of it—too late. Abruptly she realized that for an indefinite interval she had been thinking of her companion and not talking to him. "Mr. Sheridan," she began, not knowing what she was going to say, but impelled to say anything, as she realized the queerness of this drive—"Mr. Sheridan, I—"

The coupe stopped. "You, Joe!" said the driver, reproachfully, and climbed down and opened the door.

"What's the trouble?" Bibbs inquired.

"Lady said stop at first house north of Mr. Sheridan's, sir?"

Mary was incredulous; she felt that it couldn't be true and that it mustn't be true that they had driven all the way without speaking.

Bibbs descended to the curb. "Why, yes," he said. "You seem to be right." And while he stood staring at the dimly illuminated front windows of Mr. Vertrees' house Mary got out, unassisted.

"Let me help you," said Bibbs, stepping toward her mechanically; and she was several feet from the coupe when he spoke.

"Oh, no," she murmured. "I think I can." She meant that she could get out of the coupe without help, but perceiving that she had already accomplished this feat, she decided not to complete the sentence.

"You, Joe!" cried the driver, angrily, climbing to his box. And he rumbled away at his team's best pace—a snail's.

"Thank you for bringing me home, Mr. Sheridan," said Mary, stiffly. "She did not offer her hand. 'Good night.'"

"Good night," Bibbs said in response, and, turning with her, walked beside her to the door. Mary made that a short walk; she almost ran. Realization of the queerness of their drive was growing upon her, beginning to shock her; she stepped aside from the light that fell through the glass panels of the door and withheld her hand as it touched the old-fashioned bell handle.

"I'm quite safe, thank you," she said, with a little emphasis. "Good night."

"Good night," said Bibbs, and went obediently. When he reached the street he looked back, but she had vanished within the house.

Moving slowly away, he earned against two people who were turning out from the pavement to cross the street. They were Roscoe and his wife.

"Where are your eyes, Bibbs?" demanded Roscoe. "Sleep-walking, as usual?"

But Sibyl took the wanderer by the arm. "Come over to our house for a little while, Bibbs," she urged. "I want to—"

"No, I'd better—"

"Yes, I want you to. Your father's gone to bed, and they're all quiet over there—all worn out. Just come for a minute."

He yielded, and when they were in the house she repeated herself with real feeling: "All worn out!" Well, if anybody is, you are, Bibbs! And I don't wonder; you've done every bit of the work of it. You mustn't get down sick again. I'm going to make you take a little breath."

He let her have her own way, following her into the dining room, and was grateful when she brought him a tiny glass filled from one of the decanters on the sideboard. Roscoe gloomily poured for himself a much heavier libation in a larger glass; and the two men sat, while Sibyl leaned against the sideboard, reviewing the episodes of the day and recalling the names of the donors of flowers and wreaths. She pressed Bibbs to remain longer when he rose to go, and then, as he persisted, she went with him to the front door. He opened it, and she said:

"Bibbs, you were coming out of the Vertrees' house when we met you. How did you happen to be there?"

"I had only been to the door," he said. "Good night, Sibyl."

"Wait," she insisted. "We saw you coming out."

"I wasn't," he explained. "I'd just brought Miss Vertrees home."

"What?" she cried.

"Yes," he said, and stepped out upon the porch, "that was it. Good night, Sibyl."

"Wait!" she said, following him across the threshold. "How did that happen? I thought you were going to wait while those men filled the—the—" She paused, but moved nearer him insistently.

"I did wait. Miss Vertrees was there," he said, reluctantly. "She had walked away for a while and didn't notice that the carriages were leaving. When she came back the coupe waiting for me was the only one left."

Sibyl regarded him with dilating eyes. She spoke with a slow breathlessness. "And she drove home from Jim's funeral—with you?"

Without warning she burst into laughter, clapped her hand ineffectually over her mouth, and ran back noisily into the house, shutting the door shut behind her.

(Continued To-Morrow)

SHERIFF'S NOTICE

In pursuance of a Writ of Fieri Facias, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, and to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on SATURDAY, the 22nd day of APRIL, 1916, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Court House in the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, the following Real Estate, to-wit:

A tract of land situated in Butler Township, Adams Co., Pa., four and one-half miles west of Gettysburg and is bounded and described as follows to-wit: On West by land of Mr. Main, North and East by land of John Funt and on the South by land of W. B. Jacobs; tract contains seven acres, more or less, and is improved with a two-story log house, frame stable and other buildings.

Seized and taken into execution as the property of Louise J. Grondoff and John C. Grondoff, and to be sold by me,

H. J. HARTMAN, Sheriff, Adams County, Gettysburg, Pa. March 22, 1916.

Ten per cent on all sales by the Sheriff must be paid over immediately after the property is struck down; failure to comply therewith the property will be put up again and resold.

FOR SALE

A single row Hench & Drumgold Corn Planter nearly new with Phosphate attachment; Spike harrow; Corn cultivator; cutting box; one horse wagon harness; good single harness; chicken coop; bone cutter; poultry fencing.

JACOB HERBS T, 136 York street

FOR SALE

Lucretia dewberry plants $1.50 per hundred. Corsican strawberry plants, 25 cents per hundred.

W. C. HOFFMAN, ASPERS, PA.

United Phone Biglerville Exchange

NOTICE

Auto tops covered in Mohair or rubber goods, curtains and lights, new bows and sockets, cushions rebuilt and repaired, Slip covers for tops and seats, painting at reasonable prices.

BUPP BROTHERS

Carriage Works
124N Stratton St

EGGS FOR HATCHING

R. C. Rhode island Reds, the prize winning kind. Blue ribbon winners at Hagerstown, Gettysburg, York, etc. Prices reasonable. Free Booklet.

W. G. Horner, Jr.

Catalpa Poultry Farm, near R. D. 2, Gettysburg, Pa.

The Still Small Voice.

The most potent and beneficent forces are still. The strength of a sentence is not in its adjectives, but in its verbs and nouns, and the strength of men and nations is in their calm, sane, meditative moments. In a time of noise and hurry and materialism like ours, the gospel of the still and small voice is always seasonable.

—John Burroughs, in the Atlantic.

(Medical Advertising)
EVER LAY YOUR
BARE ARM ON A HOT STOVE?

Of course, it was a foolish thing to do—but it was an accident, and accidents will happen. Sometimes they are most serious and often fatal. They may cause days, even weeks, of suffering, much depending on the nature of the first-aid applications.

Common sense and Ucanol are Nature's "first-aids." Whenever emergencies arise demanding the immediate application of a soothing, healing agent, use Ucanol. It is antiseptic, cooling and wonderfully stimulating to the injured tissues. You will be amazed at the rapidity of its action. It should be on your medicine shelf at all times. It should be your first-aid for cuts, burns or scalds. Get it now and save yourself needless pain and trouble.

You can buy Ucanol at The People's Drug Store, it's not expensive. For free trial sample address, Tryol Productions Co., Inc., Dept. 350, Buffalo, N. Y.

EGGS FOR HATCHING

S. C. W. Leghorns $3.50 per 100 from thoroughbred stock. Also chicks.

L. D. FLANN, Phone 367 E Gettysburg, Pa.

FOR SALE

12000 Shingles
POSTS and RAILS for post fence and also LOCUST and CHESTNUT wire fence posts.

L. M. BISHOP, ORRTANNA.

(Medical Advertising)
Physician's Prescription
For Rheumatism

Business and professional men of large means who have taken expensive baths at famous resorts and have spent money lavishly to rid themselves of the tormenting agony of rheumatism have turned to Rheuma and got well.

When Rheuma goes in, poisonous secretions go out. No opiates or narcotics are used. Rheuma drives out the cause of rheumatism and speedily brings comfort and health, and most druggists will admit it.

Two bottles of Rheuma will cost you a Dollar of The People's Drug or any druggist, and if this purchase does not bring you the freedom from pain and misery you expected, your money is waiting for you.

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1916, by John W. Spangler, Harry Oyler and Carl E. Oyler, all of the Borough of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, under the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled "An Act to provide for the Incorporation and Regulation of certain Corporations," approved April 29, 1874, and the supplements thereto for the charter of an intended corporation to be called "Oyler & Spangler Fertilizer Works, Inc.," the character and object of which is "the curing of hides, the preparation of the raw materials for and the manufacture of ground bone products, poultry foods, tallow and animal oil products, tankage and agricultural fertilizers of all kinds," and for these purposes to have the benefits and privileges of the said Act of Assembly and its supplements.

BUTT & BUTT, Solicitors.

Spring Sale Dates- 1916

APRIL

8—A. S. Whisler
12—C. A. Hershey
15—W. S. Rittase
18—John T. Keiser
22—Clarence Snyder

Thompson
Franklin
Mt. Pleasant
Mt. Pleasant
Thompson
Thompson

DR. M. T. DILL
DENTIST
Biglerville, Pa.

Will be at Pendersville the first and third Friday of each month; at Ardenville the second and fourth Friday and at York Springs every Wednesday. BOTH PHONES.

(Medical Advertising)
FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots

There is no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Eggs For Hatching

S. C. White Orplington

Kellerstas strain. From pen that won 1st prize at Gettysburg show.

ALSO

S. C. Buff Orplington Egg

[Cook strain]

75 cents for 15

Charles Pfeffer

GETTYSBURG United Phone 639E

FOR RENT

Large Farmhouse; garden; lot and out-buildings.

RENT CHEAP.

Lot of Fruit.

Spring water in the Cellar.

For particulars call on

W. F. Watson,

FAIRFIELD, PA.

WESTERN MARYLAND

RAILWAY

Schedule Effective Sunday, Sept. 18, 1915.

Daily, leave 5:50 a. m. for Baltimore, stopping at New Oxford and Hanover.

Daily except Sunday, leave 8:31 a. m. for York and intermediate stations.

Daily, 5:51 p. m. for Baltimore, stopping at New Oxford and Hanover.

Daily, 19:16 a. m. for Hagerstown, and intermediate stations and the West.

Daily except Sunday 5:50 a. m. for Hagerstown and intermediate stations.

Daily, 11:22 p. m. for Hagerstown, Cumberland and Pittsburgh at the West.

S. E. Stewart, C. E. Stewart, Gen'l Mgr's Gen'l Passenger Agt.

Wall Paper

Call and See My Line.

ROOMS PAPERED $2.50 UP.

Harry C. Gilbert

PUBLIC SALE

ON

SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1916.

The undersigned, intending to quit housekeeping, will sell at Public Sale at her residence along the Gettysburg and Harrisburg road, 7 miles from the former place and 2 1/2 miles from Hagerstown, on the place known as the Plainview Post Office, the following to-wit:

One horse, 10 years old, good leader and safe for any one to drive.

Two Cows, 1 carrying her 3rd calf will be fresh in June. Other carrying her 5th, calf will be fresh in September. 3 Shoats ranging in weight from 50 to 100 lbs.

Farming implements consisting of 1 good one horse wagon and bed, spring wagon, 2 buggies, one good as new, one surrey and pole, 1 No. 29 Oliver Chilled plow, 1 Daisy corn planter in good shape, 2 spring tooth harrows, 16 and 18 tooth, 1 spike harrow, 1 good horse rake, shovel plow, corn sheller for power, 1 hand, 1 cutting box, hay knife, fodder cutter, grind stone, wheelbarrow, hay fork, grain bags, 2 sleighs, one a basket and the other a double seated sleigh.

Harness consisting of one set of good double harness, 2 sets of single harness, one set as good as new; 1 set of cruppers, 2 strings of sleigh bells, double trees, single trees, jockey sticks, X cut saw, cow, butt and breast chains, forks, shovels, picks, mattock and crow bar, scythe and snath, chicken coops and 4 milk cans, 250 bushels of Corn by the bushel.

75 Chickens by the pound, White Leghorns and R. I. Reds.

Household goods consisting of one bed room suit good as new, 2 old fashioned bureaus, one is 125 years old, 3 stands, 3 bedsteads and springs, 6 good rocking chairs, 6 plumb bottom chairs, 12 cane seated chairs, 3 tables, 2 extension tables, one a round drop leaf six foot, other one is a square 8 foot, 1 buffet's room as new, 1 good book case, 2 couches, 1 good chest, 1 sink, carpets by the yard, ironing, iron, 1 good Princess range, No. 7, and pipe, 1 single heater and pipe, two burner oil stove, 5 gallon oil can, 1 Gravity cream separator, churn and buck, dishes of all kinds consisting of glass, graniacs and aluminum ware, 3 lamps, one a new Rayo, 1 lantern, 3 mirrors, 2 feather beds, quilts, blankets, and comforts, buckets, pots and pans, tubs, washing machine, 6 qt. ice cream freezer, meat bench, lead press and grinder, 1 good meat saw, 2 iron saws, meat and lard by the pound, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

A credit of ten months will be given on all sums over $5.00 by purchaser giving their note with approved security. Sale to begin at 12 o'clock sharp.

MRS. DANIEL L. FIDLER.

Thompson, Auct.

Noel, clerk.

Also at the same time and place I will offer my threshing outfit consisting of one Peerless 16 horse engine, good as new, 1 Peerless threshing machine, 30 inch cylinder, in good running order, 1 good Peerless huller size 3, 10 barrel galvanized water tank and truck.

G. H. FIDLER.

An Advertisement Is A Promise

It is made openly in public print.

You have a right to expect a full measure of quality and a fair price.

You have a right to expect the advertisers to keep the promise in every particular.

No sane man would spend money for advertising unless he expected to.

The advertising wouldn't pay him. The public would not respond the next time he had something to offer.

Patronize the stores which advertise in this newspaper.

COL. HOUSE VISITS THE PRESIDENT

Envoy to Europe Visits White House For Third Time.

THE SUSSEX CASE PRESSING

Mr. Wilson Expected Not to Delay Action for German Reply After Affidavits Are Received.

Washington, April 7.—Colonel E. M. House, who investigated the submarine and other issues abroad for the president, came to the White House for the third time since his recent return from Europe.

He conferred with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. After the conference, Mr. Lansing refused to make a statement.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called at the state department in connection, he said, with questions of minor importance relating to the prize ship Appam. He conferred briefly with the department counselor, Frank L. Polk. The submarine situation, it was declared, was not mentioned.

The report of the American naval attaché in London on his investigation of the disaster on March 24 to the channel steamer Sussex, received at the department agrees with the report of the attaché at Paris that the ship, which had twenty-five Americans on board, was torpedoed.

Unless Germany has accepted the responsibility for the apparent submarine attack on the Sussex by the limit of the evidence dealing with the case reaches the state department it is expected that the United States will act without waiting on Berlin.

Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are understood to agree that the summaries of the affidavits, the originals of which are now on the way on the St. Paul, due early next week, showed conclusively that the Sussex was damaged by a torpedo attack. The British and French official reports also emphasize this fact while the French authorities have turned over to the American embassy parts of what they declare is a torpedo found in the wrecked bow of the vessel.

There is a growing belief that before the end of this week Germany will accept responsibility for the attack, explain that it was due to a mistake, disavow it, and promise any reparation which the United States may desire to exact. If this is done, then the president will be prepared to reopen the general submarine situation, make it emphatic that mistakes of that character cannot be overlooked, and demand what steps Germany is prepared to take that will prevent them.

Officials continued reluctant to discuss the plans of this government for bringing the submarine controversy to a head. It is generally accepted, however, that it is up to Germany. The United States will not make any additional concessions. It is stated.

TO RETURN COAL TAX

If Operators Advanced Prices Unlawfully They Will Be Forced to Refund.

Philadelphia, April 7.—The consumers will get back the $10,000,000 which the coal companies collected when they raised the prices to make the public pay the anthracite tax which the supreme court has since declared unconstitutional. If the state commission appointed to investigate finds any illegality in the proceedings, according to former Judge Robert S. Gawthrop, chairman.

We're going to make them pay back the money and it may be millions of dollars," said Mr. Gawthrop over the telephone from his West Chester home. "If we find that the coal operators unlawfully raised the prices, we will make them pay back to the wholesalers the money they obtained. The wholesalers will likewise have to return their unlawful increase to the retailers and the retailers to the consumers."

The tax was around eight cents a ton and the increase in price to the consumer was twenty-five cents a ton.

Knife wounds Prove Fatal.

West Chester, Pa., April 7.—Tony Lough, thirty years old, of this place, who was charged with having attacked Mrs. Madeline Cotaldi in her home on Monday, and who was slashed by the woman, died at the Chester County hospital. The woman is in prison, where she was placed after the cutting. It is likely she will be freed following an investigation by the authorities.

Pounds Cap, Loses Finger.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 7.—Joseph Halagarda, eight years old, had two fingers blown off his left hand, and John Malagarda, six years old, was perhaps blinded when they found a dynamite cap and pounded it with a stone. They wanted to see what it contained.

Fall May Cost Life.

Shamokin, Pa., April 7.—Carrying a bucket in one hand, a clock in the other at her home here, Mrs. Martha Eaton tripped and fell down a flight of stairs. Her injuries are probably fatal.

True Happiness.

Happy the man who, remote from busy life, is content, like the primitive race of mortals, to plow his paternal lands with his own oxen, freed from all borrowing and lending.—Horace.

FAVOR VOLUNTEER ARMY

Senate Retains Provision in Bill by Defeating Amendment.

Washington, April 7.—The senate retained the federal volunteering provision in the army bill by a vote of 36 to 34, rejecting Senator Lee's amendment to strike the section from the bill.

The vote ended a four-day debate on the section.

Advocates of the national guard as the first line of defense behind the regular army supported the amendment vigorously, and the struggle was one of the hardest fought in the senate at this session of congress. It began after the defeat of the military committee last week, when a proposal to create a national guard section of the army general staff was written into the bill.

The narrow margin by which the federal volunteer provision was retained made it doubtful that it will be in the measure finally framed by the conference committee between the two houses. An effort during debate on the house army bill, to insert a section, which is designed to provide such a force as the continental army proposed by former Secretary Garrison, was defeated decisively.

PLAN $100,000,000 FOR DEFENCE OF COASTS

First of the Four Fortification Bills in House.

Washington, April 7.—The third great element of the national preparedness program was brought into the house of representatives.

It is the largest fortification bill ever reported, and the first of four annual measures under which it is proposed to spend approximately $100,000,000 for increasing and modernizing the coast defenses, already officially declared to be superior to any in the world, and to supply an ample store of reserve ammunition for the guns.

Included in the bill are provisions for mounting 16-inch direct fire rifles to guard New York, Boston, San Francisco and other great cities from long range naval bombardment. Provision is also made for mounting 12-inch rifles now in reserve, so they will have a range of more than 30,000 yards, or fifteen sea miles. No ship could live within that distance of the guns.

The plan will add 16-inch mortar batteries to the present 12-inch emplacements because of the increased armor protection of modern battleships. In addition it provides for 16-inch mobile howitzers and 14-inch guns on railroad cars to defend points not protected by established forts.

In approving the bill the committee accepted almost without alteration the proposals of the war department and the officers who have studied the subject for years.

FINGER RIVETED TO MACHINE

Services of Three Men Required to Release Young Machinist.

Philadelphia, April 7.—While he was operating a riveting machine, Louis Glassburg, nineteen years old, accidentally drove a rivet through the middle finger of his right hand, and was pinned to the machine.

He is employed by Wolfeld & Brothers, trunk manufacturers, 549 North Third street.

In answer to Glassburg's call for help, three men stopped the machinery and pried the rivet loose from the material he was working on. Glassburg was taken to the Roosevelt hospital, where the rivet was extracted from the bone of his finger.

GENERAL MARKETS

PHILADELPHIA — FLOUR quiet; winter clear, $5.95-6.25; city mills, $6.15-6.55.

RYE FLOUR—Steady; per barrel, $5.95-6.50.

WHEAT firm; No. 2 red, $1.21-1.24.

CORN firm; No. 2 yellow, 89½-91c.

OATS quiet; No. 2 white, 51½-52c.

POULTRY: Live steady; hens, 18½-19½c; old roosters, 12-13c. Dressed steady; choice fowls, 21c; old roosters, 15c.

BUTTER firm; Fancy creamery, 40c; per lb.

EGGS steady; Selected 27-29c; nearby, 25c; western, 25c.

LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS.

CHICAGO — HOGS—25c higher. Mixed and butchers, $9.40-9.80; good heavy, $9.60-9.80; rough heavy, $9.25-9.55; light, $9.55-9.80; pigs, $7.90-9.75; hogs, $9.00-9.75.

CATTLE—25c higher. Beefsteaks, $13.50-14.00; cows and heifers, $8.50-9.00; stockers and feeders, $6.50-8.00; Texans, $7.00-9.00; calves, $7.00-8.50.

SHEEP—15c higher. Native and Western, $6.15-8.50; lambs, $9.00-11.50.

SCIENCE—INDUSTRY.

Lost Skill of the Ancients.

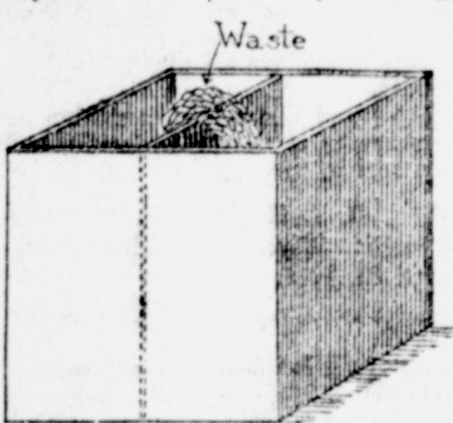

From the earliest periods of which we have historical records one of man's greatest problems has been to lift heavy loads rapidly and efficiently. Some of the greatest monuments of antiquity were built under conditions that involved lifting of heavy pieces of building material to great heights, but how it was done we do not know to this day. The manner in which the great stones were raised to their places in the pyramids in Egypt has always been a mystery and probably always will be. It is certain, however, that the builders of those wonderful monuments were possessed of mechanical contrivances that were lost in the dark ages intervening between their time and ours, or they possessed patience to a more remarkable degree than is exhibited in any race of men at the present time.—Engineering Magazine.

Device For Washing Air.

An attachment for an electric fan for cooling and washing air has been developed by a Los Angeles man. The device consists of a metal drum just large enough in circumference to fit over the guard of a fan. At the lower part of the drum is a water tank, which requires filling not oftener than once a day. Inside the drum is a series of blades similar to those of a windmill, which are turned by the breeze of the electric fan, and as they revolve the tip of each in turn enters and leaves the water tank. The blades are of wire netting, which holds the drops of liquid in the mesh, so that a considerable amount of water is undergoing evaporation all the time the air current passes over it.

A Convenient Oil Filter.

Take a five gallon oil can and solder a partition in the center, making it oil tight, says the Automobile Dealer and Repairer. Pour your dirty oil in one side and saturate a piece of waste with oil and hang it over the partition so one end is immersed in the dirty oil. By the action of capillarity the oil will flow from one side to the other, leaving the dirt behind.

The Missouri River.

The Missouri is one of the great drainage channels of the United States, measuring in total length about 2,400 miles. It drains 527,155 square miles, a territory as great as that embraced in the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Although the Missouri may never again be utilized as a means of communication and transportation, it is destined to play a large part in the better development of its drainage basin by furnishing water for irrigation and for generating power.—United States Geological Survey.

To Make a Good Putty.

To make a good putty the following formula should be used. Mix equal parts of finely ground whiting and white lead with enough linseed oil to make a thick liquid; add enough commercial putty to this to make the consistency of regular putty. This putty will not crack or crumble and it costs very little to make. If desired the commercial putty may be left out and enough whiting added to take up the liquid. The life of this putty is four times greater than of commercial putty.—Popular Mechanics.

Care of Valves.

Anything that tends to push a valve to one side or lift it by applying force in any way except centrally is liable to cause unequal and abnormal wear of both stem and seating. For this reason the end of the stem and the top of the lifter tappet should be true and square and make perfectly even contact.—Automobile Dealer.

Firedamp.

Firedamp is the ordinary name for the carbonized hydrogen which issues from "blowers" or fissures in coal seams. It is inflammable and when mixed with air in certain proportions is highly explosive. Its location is attended by the danger of an explosion of coal dust.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

IRONING DAY MENU.

TUESDAY—BREAKFAST.
Omelette.
Frieded Beef.
Buckwheat Cake With Fruit or Maple Syrup.
Coffee or Cocoa.
LUNCHEON.
Baked Potatoes.
Squidina.
Apple Sauce and Fresh Gingerbread.
Tea, Milk or Cocoa.
DINNER.
Cream of Rice Soup.
Ham in Casserole With Cream Sauce.
Baked Potatoes.
Asparagus Salad. Buttered Peas.
Fruit Tapioca.
Coffee.

Recipes a la Maryland.

BALTIMORE PUDDING.—A cupful of suet (chopped), a cupful of molasses, a cupful of raisins, three cupfuls of flour, a teaspoonful of cloves, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, a teaspoonful of soda, two eggs. Put in pudding mold and steam for about four hours.

Almond Pudding.—Pound six ounces of almonds to a smooth paste, add six ounces of sugar, a teaspoonful of grated lemon peel and six eggs. Beat eggs well, add other ingredients. Beat for an hour and bake immediately.

Baltimore Rice Pudding.—A cupful of rice, two quarts of milk, a cupful of brown sugar, a stick of cinnamon. Wash rice and add one-half the milk, sugar and cinnamon. Put in oven and cook slowly for about four hours. As the milk cooks away add the remaining quart of milk, a little at a time. Do not stir while cooking.

Chestnut Puree.—Roast brown one-half cupful of chestnuts. Pound them with a tablespoonful of butter. Add a few mixed spices and a tablespoonful of vinegar. Cook slowly, pass through a sieve and serve hot.

Sauce a la Tartare.—The yolk of an egg beaten well, three tablespoonfuls of French mustard, one-half cupful of olive oil, a tablespoonful of capers and an onion chopped fine. Salt and pepper to taste. Blend well together and serve with cold meats or fish.

Bread Sauce For Chicken.—Put a cupful of bread crumbs into a saucepan with a cupful of water. Add an onion chopped very fine and boil for five minutes. Add a tablespoonful of milk and cook until the required consistency.

Orange Pie.—Three eggs, three-fourths cupful sugar, juice of one orange and grated rind of half, juice and grated peel of half a lemon and a little nutmeg. Cream butter and sugar, beat in orange and lemon, add the beaten eggs, saving whites of two. Line apple plate with rich crust, pour in mixture and bake. Beat the whites with two tablespoonfuls powdered sugar, spread over the pie when done and brown slightly.

Anna Thompson

WALKED 87 MILES IN DESERT TO ESCAPE VILLA'S BAND

Plucky American Boy, Aged Five, Safe Among Troops on Border.

After a hike of eighty-seven miles over the desert little Jim Figg, the five-year-old son of an American rancher, has found a home in the bosom of the American soldiers on the border. The little fellow has been adopted as the ward of the border guards.

The bronze fawn-faced Jim found time for settlement when the boy came trudging into Columbus a prisoner to his father's band. Both were at the point of exhaustion, and Jim was being fairly dragged over the last leg of the journey.

In the shade of an adobe hut the father told his story.

"I had a ranch down in Chihuahua," he began. "A little while ago my wife died. I was preparing to come back to the United States with Jim here when the Villistas came. Jim and I hid. They drove off all my cattle and took everything of value.

"Jim and I had nothing much left, but we scurried together a sack of flour, a side of bacon and a canteen of water wrapped in a blanket. Then we beat it. We covered twenty-eight miles the first day. It was sure hard. But the boy held out until late afternoon without a whimper.

"We rolled up together in a blanket at night and slept under a shelf of rock. The second day I had to carry Jim ten miles. He was willing, but he didn't have the strength. We hadn't found any more water, and we were going slow on what we had.

"It took us six days to make the trip. Jim walked a spell and then rode a spell, he being the only boy. But he was dead game, that boy was."

MEXICAN FACTS, DATES AND FIGURES.

+ Carranza recognized as de facto president of Mexico Oct. 12, 1915.
+ Murder of ministers August 1915.
+ Insurgents by Mexicans near Santa Ysabel, Chihuahua Jan. 10, 1915.
+ Villa's raid on Columbus, N. M., and murder of eight civilians and nine soldiers near Columbus, Mar. 9, 1915.
+ President Wilson's decision to use American army to pursue and capture Villa, Apr. 19, 1915.
+ Estimated population of Mexico, of which only 15 per cent can read and write, 16,000,000.
+ Estimated strength of Carranza forces scattered throughout Central Mexico, 100,000.
+ Estimated strength of Villa's forces, mostly in state of Chihuahua, 3,500.
+ Strength of United States army, 100,000.
+ Of which the total enlisted strength, staff and 6,000.
+ Strength of the national guard, comprising 120,000 men and 5,000 officers.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

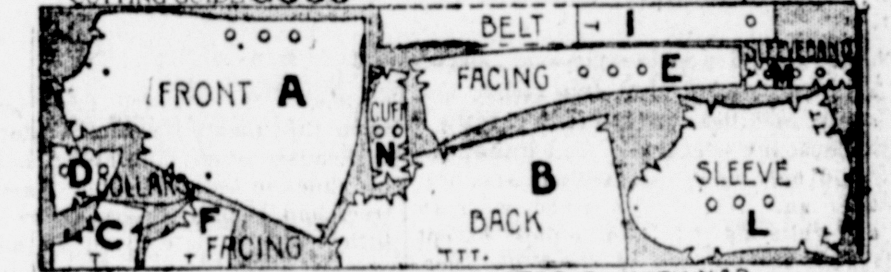

New Coat Model with Removable Collar.

coat has double collars, one being of white linen.

For spring or summer this suit in cool green linen is admirable. The

CUTTING GUIDE 6666

FOLD OF 54 INCH MATERIAL WITH NAP.
Pictorial Review Coat No. 6666, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust.
Price, 15 cents. Skirt No. 6614. Sizes, 16 to 20 years. Price, 15 cents.

Nell Gwyn's Choice.

An old friend was being shown over a country seat in North Wales which is famous for its fine pictures. One of these was a portrait of "Nell Gwyn, after Sir Peter Lely." The old dame gazed at this picture with marked interest. "So that's the hussy, is it?" she remarked presently. "but I always thought it was King Charles II she was after."—Cardiff Western Mail.

Iron-Rust Spots.

Spread stained portion over a bowl containing one quart of water and one teaspoonful borax. Apply hydrochloric acid, drop by drop, until stain brightens, then dip stain at once into water. If not removed, use same method until stains disappear. Care should be taken to use either borax or ammonia or soap in rinsing water.

A CHEERFUL COBBLER

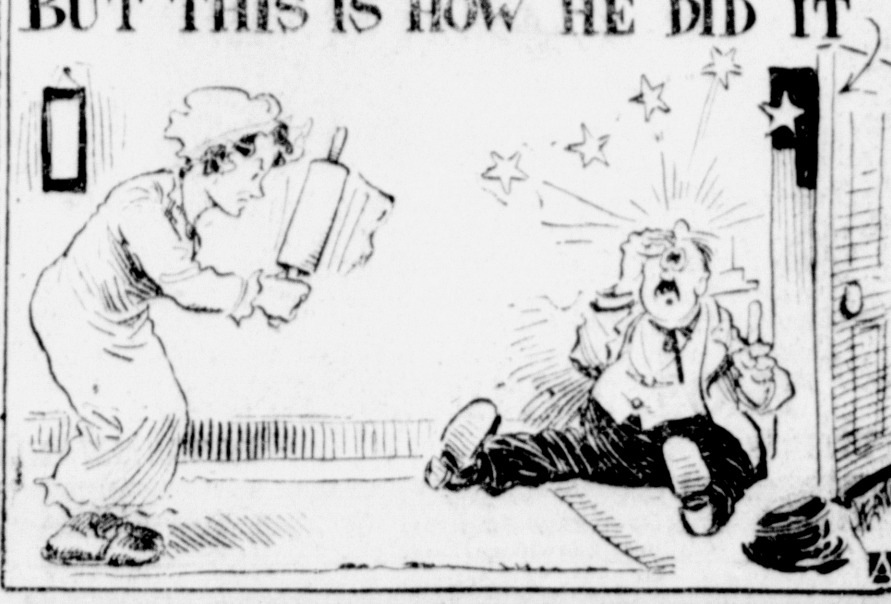

Of course, every village of fifteen hundred inhabitants must have a shoe maker. The Hillside City of Hope, as the great State Sanatorium at Mont Alto is often called, has several who help to keep their fellow patients dry shod. The one pictured above is something of a wag, as one may judge from his sign, which reads: "Our soles are right, they're water-tight and guaranteed to last."

Among the eleven hundred and fifty patients at the Sanatorium many trades and professions are represented, and when their physical condition permits the patients are permitted to ply their trades for a certain portion of each day. This gives them an opportunity for some remunerative work and at the same time fills the demands of their fellows.

For one section of the exhibit made by the State Department at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon selected examples of various handicrafts of the patients at Mont Alto, Cresson, and Hamburg. These included weaving, embroidery, lace, quilting, carving, carpentry, photography, mounted specimens of plants and various other interesting products of the patients' skill.

BUT THIS IS HOW HE DID IT

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS

Father shouldn't object to trifles

No. 1786—Smart indeed is this Child's Sport Coat of variegated check, belted all around. Fancy shaped collar and cuffs, trimmed with Copin Blue rimmed buttons of self material. A smart and durable coat for the little one. Price $5.50

No. 1787—The over-faithful Blue Serge is called upon to style this Child's Coat, which is box-pleated in back and front. Has an over-collar of white embroidered marquisette. Belted all around—fancy buttons, lined throughout. A model that will please every child who sees it. Price $5.50

The Little One Knows

NO one who has observed the behavior of a child arrayed in a new coat can doubt the keen satisfaction of the little one at her transformation. And it will not do to suppose that any coat "fills the bill."

What a child lacks in style-sense, she makes up in intuition. She can tell in a moment what impression the new garment makes on the "observers." She can tell if they really mean it when they glance or smile their admiration. And if they don't admire it, the child feels it just as an older person would.

You owe it to the little one to select her coat with the same fastidious care that you devote to your own wardrobe. In this we can help you wonderfully, for our child-styled are works of art and our sales people are splendid judges of what your child requires.

G. W. WEAVER & SON

Which costs most—painting or waiting?

After your house needs painting, every year you wait it will require more paint and more labor to put it in good condition. And every year you wait, your house is worth less. A little paint-money is good paint-insurance.

DEVOE

THE GUARANTEED
LEAD AND ZINC PAINT
FEWER GALLONS—WEARS LONGER

Just as soon as your house needs painting, come in and let us show you how little it will cost you to use DEVOE. We say "DEVOE" because it's absolutely pure. That's why DEVOE takes fewer gallons, wears longer—and costs less by the job or by the year.

And that's why we guarantee Devoe without reserve.

THOS. J. WINEBRENNER

GETTYSBURG PENNSYLVANIA

2 IN 1 SHOE POLISHES

The polish that's easiest to use—the shine that's hardest to lose.

Black
White
Tan
10¢

KEEP YOUR SHOES NEAT
The F. F. Dalley Co., Ltd., Buffalo, N. Y.

WAITE CASE GIVES LESSON ON GERMS

Wholesale Death Could Be Accomplished by Cunning Man.

NO LAW GOVERNS THE SALE

Deadly Culture Tubes May Be Handed Out Freely Without Proper Investigation of Character and Intentions of the Purchaser—Dentist Unsuccessful in This Effort.

The crime of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, in endeavoring to inoculate his millionaire parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, with deadly germ cultures of virulent diseases has caused an investigation into the case with which such germs can be secured. While Waite wasn't successful in causing Mr. Peck's death in this manner, he later, according to his own confession, poisoned the aged financier by giving him arsenic.

The disquieting fact has been revealed that any one possessing a measure of the cunning displayed by Dr. Waite could procure in New York city "for experimental purposes" almost any desired quantity of the deadliest disease germs which medical science has identified. The strict laws governing the sale of poisons are not duplicated by any laws regulating the distribution of virulent bacilli.

Though there is a provision of the sanitary code forbidding the sale of disease bacteria without permission of the board of health, there are dozens of laboratories where the germs of typhoid, diphtheria, tuberculosis, pneumonia, anthrax and other scourges have been procured in the past by persons whose responsibility has been investigated only in the most cursory manner.

Dr. Waite is suspected of having planned to inoculate with deadly combinations of bacilli those persons who stood between him and the Peck millions, and it is even asserted that developments may show that he experimented with the germs by inoculating his friends with them to see what would happen. The fact that he decided on arsenic when the time came for action does not lessen the danger that some one else might be impelled to carry out to its conclusion a bacilli crime of the sort Dr. Waite is thought to have devised.

Distribution is Unregulated. As an aftermath of the disturbance caused by Dr. Friedman and his "curative serum" cure for consumption the health department inserted in its sanitary code a provision governing the sale of disease germs. This provision prohibits the sale of any preparation containing living bacteria capable of causing disease without the permission of the board of health. The code further provides that the physician, in case a permit be granted, must enlighten the health department as to why he wants the bacteria and just how much he is to use as one dose. The sale of such bacteria without a permit is a misdemeanor and punishable by a heavy fine and a long term in prison.

This provision, it will be noted, governs only the "sale" of disease breeding bacilli and was devised to protect the public from quick serums of doubtful efficacy. It in no way restricts the laboratories in the hospitals and in the independent research institutes from providing deadly germs for any one who can convince them that he desires the cultures for medical experiments.

Laws Stops Transmission by Mail. Dr. J. S. Ferguson, secretary of Cornell Medical college, where Dr. Waite procured some of the bacilli with which he experimented, states that so far as he knows there is no specific law or ordinance governing the distribution of deadly germs.

"I suppose the general criminal laws would cover the improper use of dangerous bacilli," said Dr. Ferguson, "but I know of no law to regulate their distribution. There is a federal statute which forbids the shipment of such germs through the mail, but that is the only law of the sort that I can recall."

"Naturally, no hospital or independent laboratory would give deadly germ cultures to a person who did not have credentials of some sort, but it would be largely a matter of judgment on the part of the person in the laboratory to whom the application was made. It is doubtful whether the person asking for the cultures would be asked to produce a medical diploma or other proof of his right to handle the germs of virulent diseases."

"Almost every hospital in New York has a laboratory in which cultures of disease germs are prepared. There are also a great many independent institutions where research work of the same sort is carried on."

Dr. Ferguson agreed that the use of deadly bacilli opened up practically a new field in crime.

British Order Guns in Japan. The Asahi, a paper of Tokyo, Japan, says that the British government has sent to Japan an order for 450 three inch guns and accessories. All the guns ordered are to be finished and delivered before August next year. At first the British government desired all the guns to be made in the Armstrong pattern, but later it changed its decision and resolved to adopt the 1908 pattern gun of Japan.

Uses of Adversity. Adversity has the effect of eliciting talents which in prosperous circumstances would have lain dormant.—Horace.

A REMEDY THAT WORKED WONDERS

Wife's Shrewd Plan to Prove Her husband's Love.

When we became engaged Tom told me that he never could love but one woman as a wife should be loved and I was not that woman. She was his first and only real love—Bertha Tinterton, with whom he had fallen in love when he was nineteen and she sixteen. Tom was then poor, and Bertha's father wouldn't let her marry him. They drifted apart, and when Tom proposed for me he hadn't heard of her in years, but he had the honesty to tell me just how he felt about the matter. I was very much distressed at his confession and would have refused him, but I was very fond of him and accepted him, hoping to grow into the place that Bertha Tinterton hadn't left vacant.

A year ago, after business troubles Tom showed signs of breaking down. He needed something to divert his mind and set it running in an entirely different channel. I took him off on a trip, but it didn't seem to do much good. I invited people to the house, especially young people. Indeed, I had a number of pretty and attractive girls, hoping that Tom would get up a flirtation with one of them. But whether his young love still remained or whether he was satisfied with me he failed to become entangled with any of them. I was in despair. He was getting no better, and I didn't see any way to rouse him.

One day I saw a notice in the society news that Miss Bertha Tinterton was visiting an intimate friend of mine. I wondered if she would take hold of Tom's mentality and turn it in a healthier channel. For some time I felt that I couldn't bear the idea of bringing them together, but Tom well even in love with another, was more than sick, and after a hard struggle I called on my friend, Miss Tinterton and invited her to dinner. I didn't say anything to Tom about it before hand, for I didn't know how he would take the matter, and he might spoil my plan.

When the evening for the dinner arrived and the two lovers met, I looked for Tom to show some nervousness, especially at first. He looked at Miss Tinterton strangely. "Don't you know me?" she asked, coloring. "Certainly," replied Tom, also coloring. "I'm Bertha Tinterton. Have I changed so very much?" "Very little." But Miss Tinterton was rather thin and over-dressed and—well, she looked old maidish. But she was the only woman that Tom could ever love as a woman should be loved, and if she could wake him up that was what I wanted of her.

Tom is a reserved man, and I couldn't tell just how she affected him, but it seemed to me the meeting had him sadder than ever. It must be the realization of all they had lost in having been separated in their youth. However, I had entered upon the plan and resolved to give it a thorough trial. I invited Miss Tinterton to make us a fortnight visit. She gladly accepted.

Though I could not tell exactly how Tom felt at this reunion with his lost love, I could plainly see how the lady felt. She lost no opportunity of drawing Tom away in nooks and corners and when with him used all those art-women use in attracting men, bringing her eyes especially into constant play. I left them alone a great deal, and when I entered the room where they were always found them sitting very near together. Just before the visit was ended Tom suggested that the time of her invitation be extended. Then I felt sure that, whether the reunion resulted in a benefit or no, Miss Tinterton had renewed her grip on my husband's heart.

But Tom's health and spirits did not improve. Indeed, he grew worse. One morning he did not get out of bed and asked me to send for the doctor, adding that he wished to see him alone. When the doctor came out of Tom's room, he told me that the patient must go away at once. I informed Miss Tinterton of the change in our plans and expected her to leave immediately. She made an excuse to stay longer. A week passed, and she had not for some reason found it convenient to go. But Tom and I went.

When the train was pulling out of the station Tom turned to me and said: "What, in the name of conscience did you load that woman on to me for?"

"Load that woman on to you? I thought she was the only woman you could ever love. I hoped she would get you out of your gloom."

"You did that?"

"Yes."

Tom drew a long breath. "Well, you're a cool one."

"I'd tried everything else."

Tom felt for my hand. "My dear," he said, "I've been trying to get rid of her ever since she came. She lit the fire under me to secure a removal of her invitation. The only way to move her was to pretend a break down and have the doctor order me away."

"But why didn't you tell me?"

"Tell you, after the twaddle I'd talked when we were engaged?"

"And in the tolls of the only woman you could ever love? It was a peculiar position, I admit."

I burst into the merriest laugh I had laughed since he had talked the "twaddle." During the trip I was a thousandfold more to him than ever before, and he didn't need the "only woman he could ever love" to cure him.

At the Dinner.

Dashaway (nervously)—"Look here, old fellow, don't you think you'd better tell them not to call on me?" Cleverton—"Don't be worried; they won't! I'm quite sure they have all heard you before."—Judge.

CHICKS Grow & Soon Crow

FOR Cal-Sino
POULTRY RESTORATIVE
Prevents sickness, promotes health and growth
Costs little, goes far, does much—TRY IT

Medical Advertising
ITCHING ECZEMA
HEALED RIGHT UP
WITH AMOLOX
Use Like Cold Cream to Take Out
Redness and Clear the Skin.

Amolox, the new scientific prescription, heals eczema and skin eruptions. It stops all itch and burning instantly. Simply apply to the diseased skin this mild, soothing prescription and all agonizing itch will stop and sleepless, restless nights will be a thing of the past. Amolox ointment will quickly relieve pimples on the face, blackheads, and all minor skin troubles. Apply like cold cream. Sufferers from eczema, psoriasis, tetter and bad cases of skin diseases lasting for years, should use both Amolox liquid and ointment to effect a cure. Trial size, 50c. Guaranteed by The People's Drug Store.

Send postal for free sample to Amolox Laboratories, Youngstown, Ohio.

SHERIFF'S SALE

In pursuance of a Writ of Fieri Facias, issuing out of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, and to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on SATURDAY, the 22nd day of April 1916, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Court House in the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, the following Real Estate, viz:

A town Property, situated in the Borough of Gettysburg along the Chambersburg Pike, described as follows: fronting on said Pike Eighty feet (more or less), running back to Seminary Ave., with a depth of ninety feet, bounded on East side by lot of Harry Beatty, on the west by land of Mrs. Emory Bear, and is improved with a two story frame dwelling house and the house has all modern improvements.

Seized and taken into execution as the property of Oliver J. Boston, and to be sold by me.

H. J. HARTMAN, Sheriff.
Sheriff's Office, Gettysburg, Pa.,
March 29, 1916.

Does This Fit Your Horse?

Is he sluggish? Does he look rough or unthrifty, pass mushy or offensive smelling stools mixed with undigested whole grains, eat decayed wood, earth or soiled bedding? Has he a capricious appetite; does he pass thick and cloudy urine? If yes, he has catarrh of the bowels caused by exposure to rainy weather, or irregular or overfeeding. Give him

Cal-Sino

HORSE RESTORATIVE
A real medicinal powder made expressly to cure these disorders and to build up run-down systems. It regulates nutrition, and is a general health and strength promoter. A small quantity given with the food loosens and expels clogged, catarrhal and stagnant waste matter from the bowels, and KNOCKS OUT WORSE. Try it, you'll use it always. 2 lb. Cans 50c; 12 lb. pails, $2.00.
Cal-Sino Colic Cure gives quick relief without stopping the horse like most others do—small doses, no danger.
6 Dose Bottle, 25c; 32 Dose Bottle, $1.
Cal-Sino Diarrhoea, Cough and Heave Remedy positively cures distemper and coughs, and when used with Cal-Sino Tonic (Strong) cures all curable cases of heave. Large bottle (12 oz.) 50c.
FOR SALE BY

Roman Auto Co.

When you Buy Merchandise you judge its reliability and quality from the standing of the firm from whom you purchase.
The same condition exists in buying a used automobile. The ROMAN STANDS FIRST in Reliability, and every car we sell means QUALITY and LOW PRICE.
Over 1000 cars to select from:
1915 Grant Roadster.....$360
1915 Chandler Roadster.....$320
1915 Maxwell Touring.....$400
1915 Dodge Touring.....$375
1915 Metz Touring.....$350
1915 Overland Touring.....$400
1915 Buick Touring.....$440
Also complete line of Fords, Chalmers, Samsons, Oaklands, Locomobiles, Pullmans, Lowers, Cadillacs, Packards, Hupmobiles, Studebakers, from $150 up. Trucks and Delivery Wagons, all makes, $200 up.
SEND TODAY for our free new Catalog No. 55. It will interest you. Valuable information for automobilists; also prices on all cars.
ROMAN AUTO CO., Inc.
203 N Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The Only Grand Prize

(Highest Award) given to Dictionaries at the Panama-Pacific Exposition was granted to WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL

FOR Superiority of Educational Merit. This new creation answers with final authority all kinds of puzzling questions such as "How is Presumptuous pronounced?" "Where is Flinders?" "What is a continuous voyage?" "What is a horwitzer?" "What is white coral?" "How is skot pronounced?" and thousands of others. More than 400,000 Vocabulary Terms. 30,000 Geographical Subjects. 12,000 Biographical Entries. Over 6000 Illustrations. 2700 Pages. The only dictionary with the divided page—a stroke of genius.

Regular and India-Rubber Editions. Write for specimen pages, illustrations, etc. Free. A set of Pocket Maps if you name this paper.
G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Springfield, Mass.

New Spring Clothes for Men and Young Men

New line of Men's, Young Men's and Boy's clothing and Furnishings and Shoes now ready. See the new styles for Spring, from Schloss Bros. and Co., and other FAMOUS CLOTHES makers.

Everything that's new; everything that's fashionable; everything that's the style for men and young men is here. You need a new spring suit. Come in to-day and see this splendid showing while it's new and fresh. All grades and prices from $6.00 to $22.00. RALSTON SHOES in the latest and snappiest styles for Spring in blacks and tans.

O. H. LESTZ

"THE HOME OF GOOD CLOTHES"

Corner Square & Carlisle Street Store Open Evenings

ENTERTAINMENT

The Biglerville Library Association will give an old fashioned program including a short play entitled.

"Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works"

Saturday night, APRIL 22, 1916.

THOMAS HALL, Admission 10 and 20 cents.

New Treatment for Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption No Dosing.

No need to take internal medicines or drugs for these troubles. Melt a little in a saucer and inhale the vapor. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve is applied to the nostrils and inhaled the heat of the body, soothing, medicinal vapors are released that are inhaled to relax the nervous tension. 25c, all night long through the air passages to 50c, or $1.00.

VICK'S "VAPORUB" SALVE

OYLER & SPANGLER

The Oldest Established Hide and Fertilizer Dealers in Adams County

We remove dead stock within a radius of 20 miles and pay you for them.

Our prompt service in this line will please YOU.

Our prices on hides, skins and tallow will make you money.

Consult us before selling elsewhere.

Both Phone: Gettysburg, Pa.

(Medical Advertising)

Aged War Veteran Finds Health in Vinol
Steubenville, Ohio—"I am 77 years old, and for 35 years have worked on the P. C. & St. L. R. R. Also a Civil War veteran. I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, Ohio, an old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine."—W. H. BOWERS, Steubenville, Ohio.
The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz.: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptonate and a mild tonic wine.
Peoples' Drug Store,
C. Wm. Beales, Prop.
AT THE LEADING DRUG STORE WHEREVER THIS PAPER CIRCULATES—LOOK FOR THIS SIGN